MANY CHANGES

(By ROBERT T. SMALL)

WASHINGTON — (Special) — What is the matter with the Democratic party? Lane, halt and somewhat blind it has just survived another grand assault — a double one this time — but remains the nucleus of the only real "opposition" which exists in the country. The evil-intentioned ones who insisted the party which has survived all others was to be relegated this time to a poor third position in the regard of the people were not wrong again. La Follette did not fear it down. The only real threat to the party comes from within its own ranks. John W. Davis, the nominee for president this year, is not a politician. He is going back to his law practice, after a rest. Nationally the party virtually is leaderless for the next four years. The friends of Governor Al Smith are grooming him for United States Senator in 1926. Perhaps the wins that honor and makes the proper impression here in Washington, he will gain the strength necessary to leadership. Certainly he is the outstanding figure at the moment, despite the storm which beat about his candidacy at Madison Square Garden last June and July.

CONFERENCES PLANNED

Prominent men in the party are figuring upon a series of conferences this winter to see what sort of program can be mapped out for the Democracy. It has been demonstrated beyond all reasonable doubt that there is no affinity between the Democracy and the radicalism of La Follette, notwithstanding the misguided efforts of the men directing the last campaign to "nurse" the La Follette movement along.

In considering the prospects of the Democratic party in the future it must be understood that the name "democrat" is not the pathos to the people that president Coolidge's millions of pluralists have no difficulty in electing governors in pivotal states. Up to last Tuesday the Democrats had more governors than the Republicans. This must mean that there are good men in the party as well as good women, for two of the new Democratic governors are women of the fair sex. Al Smith has just been elected for his third term in New York. "Hiram" Cox was governor of Ohio for two terms. Vic Donahey has been elected for a second term in Ohio at a time when the Republican presidential plenary broke all records.

Obviously the trouble with the Democratic party is nationally and not locally. Something must be done with the national policies of a party which has been able to win the presidency but four times since the civil war — twice with the aid of Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey.

CAMPBELL PLAY WRONG
The first rule of the Democracy is that its entire plan should be designed a year ago. It is upon the idea of a "platform" of smashing the Republican administration, of "turning the screws" out. When President Coolidge took charge of the tottering administration of the G. O. P., he was given an apparently there was no power to devise the platform. "Destructive" was continued to be the watchword of the hour.

Millionaire Is Too Rough, Says Pretty Actress

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Hugh Corby Fox, millionaire sugar magnate, was too rough for pretty Florence Lee, Broadway actress, she charges in a suit for $100,000 which she has instituted against Fox.

The millionaire appeared before Supreme Court Justice Gavegn and put up $1,000 bonds for his appearance and was said by friends to have left for Cuba.

Miss Lee's attorney, Bernard H. Sandler, declared that Fox took the actress for an automobile ride near his Babylon estate on October 26 and after a dispute called her a "dirty little bum," and beat her. Fox is understood to have denied the charges.

CABINET TO BE SHAKEN UP

Coolidge Expected to Make
Several Changes Soon

HUGHES WANTS TO LEAVE

Mellon, Hoover and Stone Regarded as Fixtures

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Several changes in the cabinet by next spring are looked for in Washington as a result of reports that some members intend to retire to private life for personal reasons and a belief that President Coolidge after next March 4, will prefer a cabinet entirely of his own selection.

Upon assuming the presidency after the death of President Harding, Coolidge requested all members of the cabinet not to submit their resignations. While he has made no such request now with the approach of a term of four years to which he has been elected by vote of the people, he has neither asked nor received in any way resignations of members of the present cabinet.

WILL RETAIN SOME
It is expected that he will urge successful members of the cabinet to remain in office after his inauguration in March. Altho Secretary Hughes is understood to have indicated to friends that he would prefer private reasons to return to the practice of law, it is the general view that the secretary of state will continue at his post for a year, if not longer, while Secretary Mellon and Hoover as well as Attorney General Stone are regarded as fixtures.

On the other hand Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, has indicated to friends he wished to retire. Mrs. Work recently died and he is known to have felt the shock very severely.

While Secretary Weeks is close to the administration and regarded as a fixture in the office, friends report that he, for personal reasons, would like to step out of official life.

There are also persistent reports that Secretary Wilbur is being considered for a federal judgeship in California. He came from the bench to head the war department but is one of the two members in the present cabinet not selected by Coolidge.

BUTLER TO GET JOB?
The post office department portfolio, long regarded as an office for the president's campaign manager, is mentioned as a post that may be offered to William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee.

At present, however, Coolidge is centering his attention on the vacant post of secretary of agriculture. Some believe it probable that he will retain Howard M. Gore, acting secretary in that office until March 4, when the latter will become governor of West Virginia.

Either Secretary Hoover or Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, former Republican leader in the house, are considered in some circles as likely to be named as head of the interior department should Secretary Work resign. Hoover has completed his reorganization of the department of commerce and some requests have been made that he perform a similar

U. S. BUDGET WILL BE CUT NEXT YEAR

1925 Expense Account Shows Material Reduction in Cost

INTEREST LOWER

Expenditures May Not Exceed Three Billions,
Officials Declared

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The cost of running the federal government in the fiscal year beginning July 1 may fall below three billion dollars, or half a billion dollars less than the estimated expenditures for the current fiscal year.

On the basis of estimates prepared by the budget bureau and on which its conferences with the spending departments of the government practically have been completed the anticipated appropriations for the year beginning next July 1, stood Saturday night at $2,980,000,000, exclusive of the post office department, the receipts of which are expected to balance the expenses.

Officials of the budget still have work to do on the "budget of 1925" which will be submitted to the president to the forthcoming session of congress. But they have gone so thoroughly into every estimate, great and small, submitted to them by the several branches of the government that they feel any changes to be made hereafter will be in the nature of thousands rather than in millions of dollars.

WILL REVIEW FIGURES
Brigadier General H. M. Lord, director of the budget, will go over the figures and tabulations with President Coolidge some time next week and after that, it is expected, the government cost estimates will be ready for the public printer as the next stage in transmission to the president and to congress.

On the basis of the figures, as they stood tonight, the ordinary expenditures are expected to fall within the $1,700,000,000 exclusive of those by the post office department. This contemplates retention of the present basis of income and few in the government anticipate that congress will have time to do anything on tax reduction since President Coolidge has indicated he will not call the new congress, just elected, into an extraordinary session.

INTEREST IS LOWER
The great reduction in the public debt accomplished by the treasury in the last few years has begun to show its effect on expenditures and for the fiscal year 1925, the interest is calculated to exceed $350,000,000. This item alone in the current year will run about $570,000,000 and for the fiscal year ended last July 1, it approached a billion dollars. Operations of the sinking fund, which work to the retirement of the great war debt, will require about $150,000,000 actual appropriation in addition to the payments by foreign nations in liquidation of their debts to the United States.

Budget figures at this time, therefore, show less than $3,000,000,000 but attention was called to the fact that congress may call for additional funds to be made immediately available.

Expenditures in the current year probably will run about $2,980,000,000.

INJURIES FATAL
Canton Man Dies at Fremont
Following Crash

SANDUSKY — (By Associated Press) — Edward A. Geib, 37, Canton, died this afternoon of injuries received when an automobile driven by him was struck by a New York Central train on the outskirts of Fremont Friday.

His wife and two children arrived at the bedside from Canton just before he died. Geib, however, never regained consciousness after the accident.

According to reports on the road at the time, Geib was approaching from the west and failed to see their train signaling. He drove directly into the path of the train, passing a machine that had stopped at the crossing. The car was carried 100 feet and demolished. Geib's body was found 240 feet from the crossing.

WILL FREE PRISONERS
EL PASO, Tex. — All political prisoners in Mexico will be given their freedom by President Obregon on Nov. 20, the date that marks the beginning of the 15th anniversary of the Mexican revolution, according to the newspapers Excelsior and El Universal of Mexico City.

PHANTOM

HUNDREDS FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Many Towns Menaced in Three
Eastern States

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Thousands of men were fighting forest fires in New York, New Jersey and New England today. Throughout the east from the Canadian border to Maryland towns and property were imperiled.

Two companies of militia were ordered out by Governor Cox of Massachusetts to combat a great fire in the Hoosac mountains, which threatened the town of North Adams, but which finally was brought under control.

Soldiers and marines continue to fight the fires which have waged persistently around West Point and the naval arsenal on Long Island. Dangerous fires in Connecticut were controlled after an all-day struggle.

In other places over the east civilians have been called from their occupations to fight, under the direction of forest rangers, fires which threatened first one town, then another as well as many country estates. Men and women in evening clothes on a number of occasions have been called from exclusive country clubs to join in fighting a fire discovered in the vicinity.

The worst fire conditions in years are reported in Kentucky. West Virginia and other states and the drought, which has reached a record in New York City with 31 days without rain is reported as being nearly paralleled in other sections. The local weather bureau reported Saturday night there was no immediate prospect of relief by rain.

LOSS IN KENTUCKY
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (By Associated Press) — With loss in Kentucky from forest fires estimated as high as $350,000,000 on the basis of reports from the affected sections reaching here, the situation generally throughout the state tonight was reported considerably improved. Rain, breaking a drought of a month's duration, were aiding in several sections.

Confagurations in Monroe, Cumberland, McLean, Lincoln and Estill-co were reported under control. Oil storage tanks and later a refinery had been menaced near Irvine, in Estill-co.

Fires still were raging in Hopkins, in the Redfoot lakes section of Fulton-co, and on the Camp Henry Knox reservation in Hardin and Mead-co.

Heavy loss has been caused by the destruction of farm buildings, fences and orchards and standing timber. Soldiers of the caretaking detachment stationed at Camp Knox were fighting the flames there and volunteers, including school boys, dismissed from classes and workers released from factories carried on the work at various points in the state.

Considerable destruction of game, quail and rabbits, has been caused by the fires Saturday's reports said.

Encroachment Upon Residence District To Be Halted

Offensive against certain sections in Lima's proposed zoning ordinance is scheduled for Monday night by Mayor Earl C. Moyer at the presentation of the measure for public hearing in commission chambers.

While certain clauses of the proposed legislation fostered by City Manager C. A. Bingham and adopted by the zoning commission are not definitely specific as to extent of authority, Mayor Moyer takes exception to the one clause demanding a distance of three feet between property lines in construction of homes.

"This clause," Mayor Moyer says, "should not be over a maximum of two feet as a majority of building lots in Lima are 50 feet in width and with a driveway situated on one side of a house the space remaining would not be sufficient to meet the demands of the proposed ordinance, providing a 40 foot space in taken in erection of the home."

Whole-hearted support of the measure with revisions is promised by Mayor Moyer who announces that he believes it is the only legislative method the city can restrict the encroachment of business establishments in residential districts and maintain property valuation in residential districts.

Strong arguments in defense of the zoning ordinance will be presented by city officials in reply to expected opposition from certain factions in the city, who stormed commission chambers several months ago when the subject was broached and demanded cessation of activities.

Strong arguments in defense of the zoning ordinance will be presented by city officials in reply to expected opposition from certain factions in the city, who stormed commission chambers several months ago when the subject was broached and demanded cessation of activities.

Photographic conditions where business establishments have invaded residential districts and spots in residential sections where properties have been erected along sidewalk lines, obliterating view of other properties are on file in City Manager Bingham's office and comprise the main argument on which Bingham hopes to convince the public of the necessity of a zoning ordinance.

While the measure, if it is approved, will not be retroactive, its provisions will tend to prevent further building of factories outside of factory districts and restrict each section of the city for either factories, business establishments or residences.

ZONING NEEDED
The recent junk yard squabble is a true illustration of the necessity of a zoning ordinance," Manager Bingham says. The measure will not prevent present junk dealers from operating on premises now owned, but will prevent their spread to other sections of the city, a situation that has confronted city officials and which has been the target of considerable criticism from property owners.

Invasion of gasoline filling stations at important intersections in districts predominated by costly dwellings is another issue on which City Manager Bingham and members of the zoning commission base their contention.

Many of the filling stations are located less than 35 feet from the street lines, while in some instances in the business section such stations stand on the curb, a condition which Bingham declares menaces public safety in addition to depreciating property valuations.

Commissioners in recent meetings have considered elimination of all curb filling stations but opposition from various business sources has been so strenuous that commissioners have deferred action to determine the attitude of citizens at the public hearings Monday night.

"A zoning ordinance has been needed in Lima for years," Manager Bingham stated. "Had it been passed two years ago when it was first presented the condition of junk yards and filling stations that now exist would have been prevented and the ordinance would be in operation and protect property owners especially at this time when the city is growing rapidly."

SURGEONS OPERATE TO SAVE MRS. HARDING

MRS. FLORENCE KLING HARDING

Wife of Late President Rallies Following Attempt to Give Her Relief — Condition Still Cause of Anxiety

MARION, O.—(By Associated Press)—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, widow of former President Harding, who has been ill with kidney trouble for several weeks, underwent an exploratory operation Saturday night.

Mrs. Harding withstood the operation with but little shock, according to announcement of her physicians and Saturday night was said to be "manifesting her usual courage and helpfulness."

The following bulletin was issued by the attending physicians Saturday:

"The important manifestation in Mrs. Harding's case early in the week was interrupted by an almost complete occlusion of the right ureter, necessitating an exploratory puncture, which it is hoped will afford temporary relief."

CONDITION CAUSES ANXIETY
Her general condition, while not immediately critical, is such as to cause the greatest anxiety because of the condition of her heart and because of the complications which have developed in the upper part of her abdomen.

Radical surgical work at this time is quite out of the question. Mrs. Harding went through the palliative operation under local anesthesia with but little shock and tonight maintained her usual courage and helpfulness."

(SIGNED)
"I. C. WOOD, M. D.
"CARL W. SAWYER, M. D."

The operation was performed at 7 o'clock Saturday night at White Oaks farm, a sanatorium conducted by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, where Mrs. Harding has been making her home. The sanatorium formerly was conducted by Dr. Charles E. Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician.

Throughout the day, Mrs. Harding's condition had grown steadily worse. Late in the day Dr. Sawyer summoned into consultation Dr. J. C. Wood, of Cleveland, and it was decided to operate at once.

Dr. Sawyer stated they were forced to take a chance for bringing relief to their patient by performing the operation.

FIRE DANGERS

Marsh Blaze Believed Under Control; Rain Needed

ALGER — (Special) — Marsh fires on the school property leased by Delt Ellis are now believed to be under control. Tractors and plows have been hemmed in the smoldering muck and it will not spread. To other portion of the 80 acre farm at the edge of this village.

Predictions of rain are being received joyfully as a heavy shower will extinguish the fires. The muck is dry as tinder and a casual cigar or cigarette will cause it to catch fire and smolder until rain puts the fire out.

KENTUCKIAN PICKS LOCK IN HIS CELL

Man Had Been Held In Mysterious Death of His Wife

WANTED WITNESS

Woman Said To Have Killed Husband To Go on Trial

ALGER — (Special) — "Ham" Barnett, 41, Kentuckian held for authorities from that state in connection with the death of his wife, is no longer in the village lockup here.

He escaped from the village jail Friday night, officials have announced, and is now believed to be on his way back to Kentucky altho not to Salversville, the town in which he and his wife lived before her death.

Barnette's disappearance from the village lockup was thru the door to the cell in which he was being kept, it is believed he picked the lock with either a spoon or a fork handle and made his way out of the village under cover of darkness.

While at first it was believed that a confederate may have aided him, it is now believed that the prison, erected only for the care of drunks and minor law violators who were to appear in Mayor's court, was no match for the man who had tired of confinement and the possible extradition to Kentucky in connection with his wife's death.

Officials here are at a loss as to what steps to pursue. Barnett is said to be wanted in Salversville but was no match for the man who had tired of confinement and the possible extradition to Kentucky in connection with his wife's death.

Officials here are at a loss as to what steps to pursue. Barnett is said to be wanted in Salversville but was no match for the man who had tired of confinement and the possible extradition to Kentucky in connection with his wife's death.

Barnette, so officials were told, was suing his wife for divorce and left town shortly after she was found dead in bed. He was located near here and he should be taken back to face any charges which might be preferred.

MURDER TRIAL
Disappearance of Barnett may be reflected in the trial of Mrs. George Barnett for the murder of her husband, a brother of the missing man, at the home near this city on Sept. 27. She is scheduled to go on trial in Kenton Monday.

It is charged by the state that she killed her husband after a quarrel. A sawed off shot gun is the weapon said to have been used.

"Ham" Barnett is said to have been a material witness wanted by the state and the defense to show the relations between his brother and wife during the days just prior to the shooting.

Until definite information regarding the wishes of the Kentucky officers are obtained local officers will not make any effort to locate the missing man, they say, altho they believe that he has left the state and could not be found here anyway.

Altho this village is short of funds it is understood that a movement may be started soon to modernize the jail so that any kind of a prison may be kept there without danger of escape.

EDUCATION WEEK

Observance, Nov. 17-23, Asked
by Mayor E. C. Moyer

Observance by Lima citizens of American Education Week, Nov. 17-23, inclusive, is requested by Mayor Earl C. Moyer in a proclamation issued Saturday afternoon at the city hall.

SIX BIG REASONS

JOB SEEKERS IN COUNTY BUSY

Interest Centers in Long's Assistant as Prosecutor

G. O. P. STEPS INTO POWER

Present Office Holders to Retain Old Staffs

Now that the election of Nov. 4 is commencing to become an ancient history in Allen county political circles, the potential army of job seekers are starting their annual drive for berths in the court house.

Five officials, all Republicans, will commence their terms on the first Monday in January. Two of the number were elected for second terms. The other three are new-comers in official life.

Sheriff Croson and John W. Thompson, county commissioner, will begin their second terms. E. O. Zumhly, county auditor, Dr. Smith, coroner, and Charles W. Long, prosecuting attorney, will be sworn in for the first time.

Croson will serve two years as will Long and Dr. Smith. The two commissioners were elected for four years.

Long succeeds his chief, Eugene T. Lippincott, who will retire to private law practice. Dr. Charles Smith, succeeds Dr. Frank Smith, Democratic incumbent. Zumhly succeeds Walter W. Craig, in the commissioner's office. Craig steps into the county treasurer's office upon the expiration of Harry E. Watkins' term.

TERMS OF OFFICE

Glen I. Wallace, elected county recorder for the long and short terms, will commence serving the short term at once. He has been holding the office by appointment since the death of J. J. Wray, who died in 1925. Mr. Wallace commenced his term on the expiration of Harry E. Watkins' term in September 1925.

The short term expires on the first Monday in September, 1925 and Wallace will start the long term then.

Waldo Rose, Republican, elected clerk of courts will take up his duties in August, 1925, and will serve two years. He succeeds John T. Cotner, Democrat, who has made a record of efficiency in the four years he has held the office.

Walter W. Craig, Republican, will commence his two-year term as county treasurer on the first Monday in September.

Ed Smith, Democrat, elected county auditor, commences his second term on the same date. He is elected for three years and four months, and will serve until Jan. 1, 1929. Thereafter the surveyor will have a four-year term, commencing on the first Monday of the year.

The term was lengthened from two to four years by the state legislature in 1922, to make the surveyor's term conform with that of the county commissioners. Under the two-year system the surveyor has been winding up his term in the middle of the road building season.

CARLE OFT MARCH 4

W. E. Baxter, Republican, re-elected representative will begin his new term at the beginning of the next regular session of the general assembly. Senator Charles Shafer, Republican, of Scott, will start his term in the upper house at the same time.

W. T. Fitzgerald, of Greenville, elected representative in Congress, will take his seat in Washington March 4, 1925, succeeding John L. Cable, of Lima, who did not stand for re-election.

Judge Kent W. Hughes, Democrat, re-elected to the third district appellate bench, also more years will succeed himself on Jan. 1. Probate Judge Jesse H. Hamilton, Republican, will commence his second four-year term in February.

All of the officials who won second terms will retain their offices, but the election of a party of sportsmen in Newfoundland, has already served as president. The principal duties of the office are to call the commission to order during meetings. There is no extra salary attached to the job. It is customary for the office holder to receive a salary from year to year, and Zumhly, being a new member, will likely have the honor thrust upon him.

Sheriff Croson will probably keep his present force, he declared Saturday.

Interest in county political circles centers round the selection of the new assistant prosecuting attorney and county detective.

LONG'S ASSISTANT

Prosecutor-elect Long declared Saturday that he has given no thought to the matter. It is possible that he will accept the recommendation of the G. O. P. executive committee in the matter.

Among the possible applicants mentioned for assistant are: Loren Amur, 119 W. North-st., candidate for minor A. M. Rods, who resigned in the office of Lester Shepherd, candidate for state senatorial nomination in the August primary. Mel Light, former city solicitor, Chester Cable, brother of John L. Cable, and Lewis Vinour, former Ohio Northerner, who grided over they had no knowledge of its use for illegal purposes. Sheriff Croson announced Saturday.

Noah Devore was fined $200 in probate court Saturday on his plea for possession of liquor. Fred Devore has not been tried.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

ALIQUERS — Three thousand persons were forced to abandon their homes when earthquakes shook the Douera Bonfark region in the last two days of the night. Damage was heavy. Refugees declared the earth shook so that it was difficult to walk.

LIBERTY

For a Dog It May be Found Within Cold Prison Walls Where the Hand of Every Crook Is Gentle

GOVERNOR

BY GENE COHN

BOSTON — (Special) — Governor, famed convict collier of Maine State Prison, has had his bark at freedom and doesn't think much of it.

He's already to go back to the life term imposed by Governor Baxter any time the doctors at Angell Hospital here say the word.

Liberty, he finds after a month's trial of it, is largely relative, and with paradoxes and incongruities that are too much for the intuitive mind of a dog.

Thus, as long as he was a convict, Governor enjoyed the freedom of the jail yards and corridors and cells. He could go and come as he pleased. He was the pet of hundreds of men, who, so far as he was concerned, were no different from others, except that they were kinder.

But once he gained the freedom of a parole when a prison sickness came upon him, Governor found himself penned up in a cage and most carefully watched. His past record as a cat killer still hung over him. He was eyed with a suspicion. He was uncomfortable and restricted. When he went out it was in leash. So this was freedom? Governor felt that, once he was dismissed from the hospital, it would be the same thing. He had become a "convict" collier. People would look at him and point at him. Yes, he would be a marked dog. Every cat disappearance would be blamed on him, and he would go back to the pen.

him with private concerns, and may resign anyway. The job pays $175 and emoluments.

It is believed, however, that at least one member of the Lima police force may go after the job, it is believed. H. C. Risner, chief deputy sheriff, might also be considered.

Waldo Rose and Walter Craig declare they have given no consideration to the matter of appointing their office help. Both have a long time to think it over.

TAG DAY HELD

Fund Collected to Assist Disabled Veterans

LEITSIS — Forget-me-not day was observed Saturday in Leipsic, when bouquets for the aid of disabled veterans were sold on Leipsic streets, in business houses and public places.

Miss Alice Kirkendall was general chairman of the committee selling the tags. Assistants were: Misses Edna Simmons, Mary Rowen, Evelyn Root, Helen Rower, Maxine Starling, Maryetta David, Marie Galt, Wilhelmina Radtke, Lucille Brown, Emma David, Edna Montebello, Henrietta Evers, Madeleine Betty Parsons, Elizabeth Galt, Mary Cookshank and Miss H. H. Felsler.

The challenge was made after General Garibaldi's seconds, considering the challenge to a duel made yesterday by General Varini, commander of the Roman army of the Fascist militia, asserted that Varini was not the head of the militia and that he had no right to ask for satisfaction from Garibaldi. Their principal, they said, was ready to accept a duel with Premier Mussolini.

The original challenge was made because of Garibaldi's protest against the alleged attack by Fascist militiamen upon unarmed foreign soldiers on Tuesday, when Rome was celebrating the sixth anniversary of the Italian armistice with Austria.

DUEL IS SOUGHT

"Insulted" Italian Officers May Meet on Field

ROME — (By Associated Press) — Dr. Italo Balbo, in his capacity as commander-in-chief of the Fascist national militia, today challenged to a duel General Peppino Garibaldi, grandson of the Italian patriot.

The challenge was made after General Garibaldi's seconds, considering the challenge to a duel made yesterday by General Varini, commander of the Roman army of the Fascist militia, asserted that Varini was not the head of the militia and that he had no right to ask for satisfaction from Garibaldi. Their principal, they said, was ready to accept a duel with Premier Mussolini.

DELAWARE MAN HONORED

AT TEACHERS' MEETING

COLUMBUS — H. T. Main, superintendent of Delaware public schools, was elected president of the Central Ohio Teachers' at its closing session here today. Other officers elected were F. M. Sholtz, superintendent of Springfield schools, vice president; C. A. Walte, superintendent of Xenia schools, member of the executive committee; and Lee Dollinger, principal of Sidney schools, member of the auditing committee.

William McAndrews, superintendent of Chicago schools, delivered the main address at the closing session and advocated the practice of giving the school pupils more practical experience in civic government, by turning over to them a large portion of the discipline of the class room.

AUTO TAKEN IN LIQUOR RAID MAY BE SOLD HERE

A Lexington car confiscated when Fred and Noah Devore of Allentown, were arrested near Kemp with a large quantity of alleged whisky, may be auctioned off by the county, unless the alleged owners show they have no knowledge of its use for illegal purposes. Sheriff Croson announced Saturday.

Noah Devore was fined $200 in probate court Saturday on his plea for possession of liquor. Fred Devore has not been tried.

SHOOT MY WOODEN LEG," SAYS MAN; IS KILLED

ONEIDA, N. Y. — "Shoot at my wooden leg," cried Stanley Market, 51, employed on the farm of Ignata Buda, near here, to Joseph Buda, 9, while taking care of the child, Buda, today, while their father and mother were delivering milk.

The child pulled the trigger of the shotgun with which he was playing and Market pitched forward on his face. He died an hour later. The charge had entered his abdomen.

FIRE RAGES IN VILLAGE

THE WIRS, N. H. — Fire early today had wiped out the heart of this village, destroying eight buildings which included the post office, a church and a large summer hotel. The flames had not been brought under control at 12:30 o'clock this morning, and were threatening the entire summer cottage colony.

LIMA TO HONOR REV. A. D. WELTY

Celebration Planned Along With Mission Sunday

CHURCHES WILL ASSIST

Noted Speakers on Program at Memorial Hall

Delegations from all Lima churches, civic organizations and fraternalities, the American Legion, Boy Scouts and business men will assemble at Memorial hall at 2:30 p. m. Sunday to do honor to Rev. A. D. Welty, superintendent of the Lima Rescue home, for his 25 years of service among the poor of the city.

The Mission Sunday program will start at 2 p. m. with a half hour's entertainment of music by the Grace M. E. church orchestra and the Trinity M. E. choir. At 2:30 Rev. John Callahan, chaplain of the Tombs prison, New York City, will give a talk on his experiences in the Tombs, while Rev. Ed Clark, superintendent of the Buffalo, New York Rescue mission, also will speak.

TOMBS' CHAPLAIN

Callahan also will address a meeting at 7:30 Sunday evening at Memorial hall. At 5 p. m. he is to address members of the safety department in the street directly in front of Central fire station, weather permitting. He will tell the assembled firemen and policemen of his experience in the Tombs.

The noted New York preacher arrived in Lima Saturday afternoon and was met and escorted to the Hotel Argonne by a delegation composed of Fire Chief John Mack, Chief of Police T. A. Lankier, R. G. Fisher, of the fire department and Officer "Mike" Laughlin of the police department.

Other speakers on the program Sunday at Memorial hall are K. A. Hawkins of Ft. Wayne, and Jim Costello, formerly of the St. Louis slums and now a prominent business man. Rev. Warren L. Steeves, pastor of First Baptist church, will introduce the speakers.

CHANGE IN RAIL LAW SOUGHT

Twenty Brotherhoods Hold Conference to Plan Action

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — Chief executives or representatives of twenty railroad brotherhoods and affiliated labor organizations met here yesterday to plan a legislative campaign before congress, particularly regarding the Howell-Barkley bill which seeks the abolition of the United States railroad labor board. Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who issued the call for the meeting, presided.

The railway brotherhoods and unions will seek to have congress, when it convenes in December, pass the Howell-Barkley bill, which would substitute machinery for the mediation of railway labor disputes for the arbitration provisions in the transportation act of 1920. According to a statement of Stone given out after the meeting, the bill would revive the old joint conference boards created by the Newlands and Erdman acts.

The labor provisions of the transportation act were declared by the delegates at the meeting to be "a complete failure."

Details of the railway organizations' plans to push the Howell-Barkley bill were not divulged.

The conference is said also to have canvassed the general situation of railway labor from a legislative point of view.

FUNERAL SERVICES ARE HELD FOR PUBLISHER

SPRINGFIELD, O. — Members of Anthony Lodge, No. 2, and A. M. of this city, escorted the body of George B. McEllan, St. Joseph, Mo., publisher, from the train to the residence of his father-in-law, A. L. Slager, where a simple rite and a funeral service was held. The body will lie temporarily in McEllan's cemetery chapel here.

McEllan was killed in an automobile accident at St. Joseph last Sunday night.

Beaverdam Farmer Lives On Plot Secured in 1836

Charles Noble Holds Oldest Land Deeds, Claims

FARM 88 YEARS OLD

Presidents Jackson-Van Buren Signed Documents

Charles Noble, residing one and one-half miles northeast of Beaverdam, claims to possess the oldest land title documents held individually in Allen county.

Saturday afternoon he proudly exhibited three yellow tinted documents ranging from 85 to 88 years old. One document is the original for the plot of land on which he now works daily for a livelihood.

Old and unique, written with a quill pen, the documents have been preserved for years by the Noble family, being handed down from Daniel Lindly Noble, grandfather of Charles Noble, who acquired title to the land from President Andrew Jackson on Feb. 15, 1836, or exactly 88 years ago.

LAND STILL YIELDS

In 1836 Daniel Lindly Noble moved to Lima from Washington, D. C., Pennsylvania, and acquired possession of the land near Beaverdam, known as the south one-half of the northwest one-quarter of section 22, township 2, south range eight. The plot of 40 acres was granted by President Andrew Jackson.

On March 2, 1837, John Lams, of Washington, D. C., Pennsylvania, acquired possession of the east quarter of section 28 in township 2, Lima, during the presidency of Martin V. VanBuren. Paul A. Brier, secretary to the president, and W. M. Garland, U. S. land agent, added, after their signatures to the document which is about 18 inches square. The grant of 89 acres has since been divided and is split among several land owners near Beaverdam.

A deed executed on the same day on March 2, 1837, and granted William Templeton, the west one-half of the northeast quarter in section 28, township 2, south range eight, or a grant of 200 acres, the original plot which has been subdivided in farm land among leading farmers near Beaverdam.

The deed received by Daniel Lindly Noble from the U. S. government at Washington was the 38th hundredth deed issued since the inception of the republic, according to the information compiled from the documents in the possession of Charles Noble.

COOLIDGE AHEAD

INJUNCTION IS ASKED TO PREVENT SHUTTING OFF OF NATURAL GAS

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — The first legal step to assure 20,000 Columbus families a natural gas supply after Monday night was taken today by City Attorney Charles A. Leach.

The Federal Gas and Fuel Co. as the result of voters Tuesday refusing to vote a k., a sliding scale rate setting at more than 45 cents a thousand cubic feet, which had been set by city council, announced that it would discontinue service Monday midnight.

Leach today filed suit in the common pleas court asking for a temporary injunction preventing the company from carrying out its announced intention.

The suit was directed against the Federal company, the Columbus Gas and Fuel Co., the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and the Ohio Fuel and supply Co., all of which are related in serving natural gas to the city. Only the Federal company, however, has declared it would abandon service. Leach said the four were made parties to the suit because they are all controlled by the same interests.

The action will be heard at 9 a. m. Monday.

MAN IS SAVED FROM LAKE

Adrift in Storm. He Tells of Intense Torture

DETROIT — (By Associated Press) — Frank Wells, of Toledo, was rescued from Lake Erie where he had been afloat in a cabin cruiser since Friday night by members of the coast guard late today. He was brought to Detroit where he told coast guard officers that his companion, known only to him as Clifford, was afloat on the lake in another boat.

According to Wells' story he and the other man were towing a motorless boat from Fremont to Toledo. During the storm Friday night the hawser that connected Wells' craft with the motorless boat broke, leaving the man in the other vessel stranded in the lake.

The navigating craft ran out of gasoline and left Wells adrift in the storm. The coast guard cutter C. G. H. enroute from Detroit to Buffalo, found Wells, wet, hungry and suffering from exposure, almost too weak to climb into the cutter.

"I was ready to take to the water if you fellows had not come alongside," he told his rescuers. "The thought of another miserable night on that cold, slaking boat had just about broken me. I preferred death to that torture again."

Coast guards will start a search at daylight tomorrow for Wells' companion.

FUNERAL FOR MILTON M'PHERON ON SUNDAY

Millions Don't Bring Thrill

Chewing Gum Magazine Started Selling Papers

$1,000,000 INCOME TAX

Plugging For Money Means Nothing, Rich Man Says

CHICAGO — William Wrigley Jr.'s millions have not made him any happier.

"Merely piling up a bank account has not given me a thrill," declares the chewing gum magnate, who, last year alone, paid an income tax of more than $1,000,000.

"I was just as happy before I made my first million as I was after I had it. I never have worked for the thing of the thing. Just plugging along for dimes and dollar does not mean much. It is a battle. When you quit fighting the kick is gone."

Wrigley has been broke many times.

RAY AWAY AT 11

Today he has put the world's jaw to work. From this he has sold up a great fortune.

Born in Philadelphia, the eldest of nine children, Wrigley grew up as the average boy, but with more than the average boy's energy.

He was expelled from school so often that by the time he was 11 his folks finally quit trying to modify his teachers.

That year he ran away to New York. There he sold papers, ran errands and did odd jobs.

Home sickness drove him back to Philadelphia. Another year in school and he was dismissed again. So his father put him to work in his factory, stirring soap.

He went out on the road as salesman for his father. The going was none too easy. Tough breaks came often than good ones.

In 1891 Wrigley came to Chicago. Business was dull, so to stimulate his soap sales, he began offering premiums with each order.

OWN RAIL TEAM

More than once he ran in debt but each time he succeeded in getting out.

While giving away chewing gum with his soap, he hit upon the idea of selling gum alone. Then he decided to begin making his own.

From the start, he was a firm believer in advertising. In 1902 he dumped his accumulated profits of $100,000 into an advertising campaign in New York—and lost every cent.

Next time he called on Gotham he threw out $250,000. Profits commenced rolling in right away.

Since then he has spent close to $5,000,000 advertising his gum in a score of languages throughout the world.

And chewing gum is not his only business interest.

He owns a baseball team—the Chicago Cubs. He owns Catalina Island, an amusement resort, off southern California. He is director of banks, corporations and local affairs.

Yet the money these connections bring him is secondary in his estimation.

One year his factories turned out eight billion sticks of gum. Next year he expects to produce at least 10 billion sticks.

EMPLOYEES OFF SATURDAYS

He always keeps a box of gum on his desk. He chews it continually.

Wrigley is 62, but looks no more than 40. He plays as hard as he works.

Each day finds him down with the shadows in his office atop the Wrigley Tower building. He is one of the last to leave.

His employees get Saturdays off.

"The high-priced executive usually cleans off his desk by Friday and prepares for a week-end vacation," he says. "Let the girls and men in my office do the same. Let them go window shopping and have a good time."

"The rich man should play the part of the good citizen," he insists.

"He should help where he can. He should be interested in his fellows, in his community."

"And no amount of money can remove him from this obligation."

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SHAWNEE COUNTRY CLUB WILL BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 10TH, 1934, AT 7:30 P. M. AT THE LIMA CLUB, LIMA, OHIO, AT WHICH MEETING THREE TRUSTEES TO SERVE FOR THREE YEARS.

M. L. PEW, SECRETARY.

ST. MARYS

Mrs. Sarah P. Gallant and Rene Moore and family had an recent guests C. E. Olin, Cincinnati, and Clifford Ginn and family, Sidney.

Walter and Mrs. Beck and daughter, Elizabeth, Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ertis, Fiqua; Mrs. Sarah Ertis, Bradford, were first of the week visitors at the Forest Levering homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Slegar, daughters, Margaret and Allen, have returned to Van Wert, concluding a sojourn at the John Garber residence.

Thelma Wehrman, nurse in Grant hospital, Columbus, spent the week-end with her parents, August and Mrs. Wehrman.

Paul Meyer and Mrs. Edward Calloway of Milwaukee were recent guests at the Walter E. Meyer residence, W. Market-st.

Charles L. and Mrs. Hunter have returned to Buchanan, Mich., concluding a visit with their son, Bob, in St. Marys and with their son-in-law daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landman, St. Henry, Mercer Co.

Jennie Smith, Goldie Moberly and Helen Makley spent several days the past week in Cincinnati. Mrs. Oliver Hager is visiting in Paducah, Ky., expecting to go thence for a sojourn in Cushing, Okla.

THE wallboard in greatest demand today is Sheetrock, the fireproof wallboard.

There is good reason for its popularity.

Sheetrock is fireproof—made from rock, not wood, pulp or fibre. Sheetrock is easy to erect—you just nail it to the joists or studding. Sheetrock makes solid, non-warping walls and ceilings at low cost.

Sheetrock takes any decoration you want. Particularly beautiful effects are obtained with Sheetrock and Textone, The Sheetrock Decorator.

Sheetrock is ideal for repairs, remodeling and new construction.

Sold by your dealer in lumber or builders' supplies. Made only by the United States Gypsum Company.

UNCLE SAM HAS FREAK AUTO

"Chariot" Is Used in Testing Motor Efficiency

WASHINGTON—(Special)—

They call it "Bruce's Chariot."

Really the car belongs to Uncle Sam.

But C. S. Bruce of the Bureau of Standards operates it—which is no mean feat.

This government-owned flivver—

unlike any other automobile in the world—is made up of 90 pieces of apparatus that tell the complete story of what happens to a car when it's running.

The apparatus on Bruce's Chariot tells such things as the number of explosions in each cylinder, the number of revolutions of each wheel, the weight of the air used by the engine, just how much work the piston does in sucking in air and gas, and other vital facts.

The device is used to measure wind resistance and to chain wind resistance.

The car is being used in government tests—with a view to improving motor efficiency and performance.

U. S. Explorers To China Use Dodge Autos

Having established their own satisfaction in the fact that even a 100,000 mile trip can be made will now attempt to take it, origin back another in a month.

They returned from Asia a year ago with a lot of 20,000-mile expedition which they had made in the United States.

Thence the party will proceed into the heart of the Gobi desert, in Mongolia, where it is hoped a five year search will reveal further amazing secrets concerning the early life of man, beast and rep-

SIN USES FOR MOTOR BUS

NEW YORK—(Special)—

A J. Brousseau director of the National Chamber of Commerce, outlines the following profitable use for motor buses when linked with electric railway operation.

In this traffic region,

where business does not warrant investment in railway equipment, heavy traffic areas to handle local passengers.

In light traffic hours when costs of power station operation can be saved.

In developing new territory as feeders to rail routes, city transportation, to meet public demand for bus service.

In interurban transportation to meet public demand for bus

ELIMINATE SCRATCHES

Scratches on a fine polished automobile can be eliminated by applying several coats of this shel-lacet until the scratch has been completely filled. When the last coat has dried it should be rubbed with a clean cloth and a little olive oil. A rubdown with a good body polish will render the touch-up inconspicuous and restore the surface to its original appearance.

TOO MANY LAWS ON TRAFFIC

Constructive Policy Should Be Goal of Cities

INDIANAPOLIS—(Special)—

There are too many traffic laws,

That is the belief expressed by C. C. Hanch, vice president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in an address here.

"American cities are placing the chief burden of traffic on their already over-worked police forces," said Hanch. "Instead of making studies of transportation needs and planning the routing of traffic and improvements on the basis of these studies.

"Every large city needs a traffic commission to study its traffic, electric and motor vehicle facilities and to map out plans of operation on a basis of maximum efficiency and service.

"The opening up of a few streets in many cities and the economic routing of commercial vehicle traffic will be helpful both to shipper and public.

"Speed is a relative matter, depending upon the time of day, the place, and the conditions of road and weather. What we need most is not the clamping down of an arbitrary speed law, but the quick and safe dispatching of traffic at rates of speed suitable to the conditions.

"We need more parking instead of more 'no parking.' Facilities at should be provided for the all day parking, and everyone should be permitted to leave his machine at a given place long enough to attend to reasonable errande. Constructive rather than

HIKE WHILE AT HOME

An Iowa farm woman recently found she walked five miles daily, walking to and from her kitchen. A pe-dometer, attached to her leg, showed it.

A member of the co-operative agricultural extension service of that state helped to rearrange her kitchen equipment to reduce her mileage. It cut the hike down to 2.5 miles a day.

And it gave her more time for her work about the house, and for rest.

Y.W. CLUBS PLAN BUSY WEEK

Foreign-Fellowship Services
Constitute Program

CLUB NIGHT BANQUET

Foreign Secretaries to Speak on Conditions Abroad

Lima Y. W. C. A. is connected with other clubs scattered around the world with dedicated workers, starting Monday, to plan and fellowship services. The theme is to be "Youth and the New World" and will be brought out at the various meetings arranged daily by the local Y. W. C. A. during the week.

Miss Mary Thomas, Handara, Borneo, who is spending a year's furlough with her father in this city will open the week's program Tuesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. with a talk on the activities of the Y. W. C. A. in foreign countries and in the vicinity where she is located as general secretary. On Tuesday the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors will be held at the home of Mrs. J. P. Bowman, 538 N. Jamaica. Mrs. Oliver Sullivan will have charge of the world fellowship program to be put on after the meeting.

CLUBS COMBINE
Wednesday will be "all club day" and the program will begin with the supper to be given in the gymnasium by the various clubs at the Association. Each club will decorate its respective table to represent some country. The Lima Y. W. C. A. have chosen America, the Tatapochans, Japan; the Tuijour, Pretes will be Turkey and the Wobelos, Ireland. The other clubs have not yet revealed their plans.

Miss Martha Denison, national Y. W. C. A. secretary of Jubilee, India, who is on a furlough, will speak on "World Fellowship." Miss Denison will also tell of her experiences in India. Other features on the program are folk dances by the gym department with Miss Harrod and Miss Schuler directing, folk songs by Clara Barnhart and foreign games directed by Mrs. Rice, W. Market. Miss Vera Rousculp will sing "Our Quest" the national business women's song.

Just preceding the dinner, the campaign tests and their captains will meet at the Y. rooms for a general conference and discussion. The campaign for current expenses is to begin on Monday, Nov. 7.

WATER IS GONE

City in Desperate Straits;
Supply Exhausted

NEW LEXINGTON — (By United Press) — Perry-co has been stricken by a dire water shortage less than a quarter of an inch of rain having fallen in more than two months.

Hundreds of small streams are dry and the New York railroad is using two water trains daily to supply its needs at Corning at a cost of $200 per day hauling water from the Hocking River to Channock.

The Pennsylvania railroad is hauling water for its supply and so is Luga Coal Co. The Coal company is getting water from Lancaster for its mines here.

Many watering places on farms throughout are bone dry and farmers are importing water to water the stock. Hundreds of streams in this vicinity are just dry bones. The potteries at Roseville and Crooksville are depending on supply hauled by rail and traction from Zanesville.

LAUGHS AT CHAIR

Girl, Who Killed Two, Says Sex Will Save Her From Death

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (Special) — Mrs. Winona Spriggs Green, 23-year-old confessed slayer of her parents-in-law, laughs at the electric chair.

She is certain she will escape it because she is a woman. "Who ever heard of a woman being electrocuted or hanged in Arkansas?" she demands whenever the death penalty is mentioned to her.

Furthermore she is not remorseful. "I'm not sorry for my deeds," she repeats again and again.

"I planned both murders, thinking them all out thoroughly in advance. Now that I have admitted everything, I am willing to meet whatever fate awaits me."

HOOTS AT INSANITY PLEA
Her attorneys are building up an insanity defense. Their allies have examined Winona.

They report she is suffering from paresis of the brain in active form. They explain this makes the victim irresponsible, so there may be no outward appearance of insanity.

But Winona hoots at the idea. Her husband, Le Roy H. Green, a railroad man, who up until her confession stood jointly accused with her, has turned against her.

He has notified his lawyers to bring divorce action.

HUSBAND PITIES HER
"No, I don't hate her," the husband says. "I pity her. She is crazy."

"But I am thru with her. I don't see how she ever could have killed my father and my mother. They always were good to us."

Winona says she does feel sorry for her husband.

J. R. Green Winona's father-in-law, a railroad switchman, was shot and killed on the night of August 16 while returning home from work.

QUARRELED OVER MONEY
Winona, who had just come in from Pueblo, Colo. assisted the widow in the funeral arrangements and in settling up Green's affairs.

Then she and the elder Mrs. Green left for Oklahoma. En route the mother-in-law also was slain.

Winona and her husband were arrested in Pueblo and returned here. After hours of questioning, Winona broke down. The murder charge against her husband was dismissed.

Mrs. Green contends her mother-in-law owed her money. She decided first to murder the father-in-law, believing his wife would pay her back once he was gone.

Then after quarrelling with the widow, Winona shot her too.

HEALTH RULES TAUGHT IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS
TOLEDO — (By United Press) — Lucas county school teachers are teaching their pupils rules for good health and so far they have found that the supposedly hardest rule for the youngster to comply with—that of washing their hands before eating—is absolutely the easiest.

Out of fifteen health rules presented to the youngsters, they found it very easy to wash their hands before eating and eat three meals daily without a smacking at the table.

The three rules hardest to establish were these: Use milk instead of tea or coffee; eat a cooked cereal for breakfast with not more than one teaspoon full of sugar; eat two vegetables other than potatoes and beans daily.

ABOVE—WINONA GREEN, IN HER CELL IN THE COUNTY JAIL AT LITTLE ROCK, ARK. HER HUSBAND, LE ROY H. GREEN, WHOSE PARENTS SHE ADMITS SHE MURDERED.

Neckwear must mirror the costume's theme. Our tailored red satin vestee sets are precious looking. What fun to dress up a last year's frock with a charming lace affair which enhance the beauty of any face—wisely watching her favorite player in the game.

Strong, sturdy glove—if she's doing the driving to Columbus but for the most part, the far sex escape this all-important task. Her's will be stuffed in her pockets most of the time—but still she must have gloves. Ours are quality gloves.

Her coat will be of a suede like cloth, lavishly fur trimmed. The color—cranberry, oxblood, shutter green, penny or any of the beautiful browns. A few black coats may be seen. At a time like this—the fur sport coat will triumph—the leader being a jaunty leopard coat, trimmed with red fox—followed by civet cat, raccoon, muskrat and opossum.

Her frock will be a straight-line affair, fastened down the front with many buttons. Very simple and fashioned of flannel, hair-lin, silk, kasha or chirmeen.

Don't overlook her shoulder flower on her fur collar. (We have great difficulty in securing enough to meet our incessant demands.) Red ones—of leather, velvet or silk, are very popular. American girls are fast learning the secret that the French woman has always known—that in the charm of her accessories lies the success of her ensemble.

The young men in the Haberdashery Department are the greatest help when men want to select just the right collar. They know the kind that will look best on you—so, consult them before you leave for the game.

Bluem's

—The Style Center of Lima—

—the correct coat—

There is no uncertainty in proclaiming a cape-back coat for the game. Certainly you'll need a warm wrap—one of the new, luxurious woollens with perhaps, a beaver collar. This model $175.00. Many others much less.

Going to Columbus for the Game This Week?

The big day is drawing near—the day all Michigan and Ohio have been yearning for—the day whose sunset will proclaim the victor. If you're anticipating this mighty game—or going east for the Yale-Princeton fray, give your costume some extra thought. Half the fun is enjoying the smartly attired crowd. Be one of the vivid bits of color yourself!

—the cloth frock—

We have in mind, one especially smart frock for the informal dance that takes place after everyone tramps out of the stadium. Black crepe satin with long tunic, pretty bright vest and silk braid medallions $59.75

—new neckwear—

Neckwear must mirror the costume's theme. Our tailored red satin vestee sets are precious looking. What fun to dress up a last year's frock with a charming lace affair which enhance the beauty of any face—wisely watching her favorite player in the game.

All Star Fashions

Next Saturday—at Columbus one may feel the old thrill and see the new fashions. And about the fashions, at least, there is no uncertainty.

From crown to toe the young girl of our story will look boyish—for again fashion demands the straight silhouette and shingled head. She will undoubtedly choose felt for her hat—the hatter's plush is a popular second choice.

There will be lots of pompons seen—some above the tiny brims, some below and a few, both places. If her hat isn't feather trimmed, it's almost sure to be self-trimmed with a jaunty bow or "apple-paring" trimming.

Her coat will be of a suede like cloth, lavishly fur trimmed. The color—cranberry, oxblood, shutter green, penny or any of the beautiful browns. A few black coats may be seen. At a time like this—the fur sport coat will triumph—the leader being a jaunty leopard coat, trimmed with red fox—followed by civet cat, raccoon, muskrat and opossum.

—smart hand bags—

Envelope purses hold so many things girls like. One must powder between halves of the game and take a peep in the mirror, perhaps—to make sure the bright hat is at just the right angle. There's a darling square model, trimmed in red at $3.98

—the right gloves—

Strong, sturdy glove—if she's doing the driving to Columbus but for the most part, the far sex escape this all-important task. Her's will be stuffed in her pockets most of the time—but still she must have gloves. Ours are quality gloves.

—the escort's tie—

Buy a bright, striped tie to please her. All girls love a loud tie at a football game. Prince of Wales ties are here in a profusion of smart colors, $1.00 to $3.50

—the sport hose—

Nothing quite so warm and comfortable as well knit hose. The cement floors of the stadium feel cold without them. The newest designs in blocks are certainly the last word in smartness—on the FIRST FLOOR.

—his new muffler—

In spite of a whole year of muffler wearing, we have purchased hundreds of new ones—for we know men like them and will continue to like them more as the cold weather approaches.

HOMES OBTAINED FOR CHILDREN

Welfare Association Provides for 50 Youngsters

CLASSES ARE FORMED

Conditions in Allen-co Among Best in State

Fifty homeless children have been placed in homes in Lima during the past few months by the Board Home committee of the Child Welfare association.

This announcement was made at the meeting of the Boarding House committee with representatives of almost every social agency in the county. Problems of the children under supervision of the association and future work toward extending relief to destitute children or children in needy families were discussed.

Some of the work that is being carried on by the Child Welfare association consists of organizing boys' and girls' classes which meet at different times at the Rescue Home. Instructions in games and studies and the work of the Red Cross division, the health clinics and other departments.

HONOR SYSTEM

Report of the Children's Home indicates that conditions there are among the best in the state. A honor system in which the institution has produced results and many of the children are showing improved development under this system.

In taking care of the health of the child the work is under supervision of the clinic conducted at the Red Cross home where good work is completed. Seven children had their tonsils removed in one day and the monthly health inspections at the children's home keeps the disease rate to a very small ratio.

The Board Home committee during past months has been active, the report shows. Many children, otherwise homeless, are now happily settled in good homes. At present there are 50 children being cared for in private homes through the county at the expense of the association. In many instances where the association has several children the association finds a home for them during the daytime hours while the mother is making a living, according to Miss Eleanor Emme and Mrs. T. F. Maher, leaders of the association.

I'D RATHER BE FUNNY THAN PRESIDENT--

That's What Chauncey Depew Told Artist E. R. Higgins

Chauncey Depew was busy at his desk when Artist E. R. Higgins dropped in for a chat. Nine-ty-one years and the work of "chairman of the board" of the New York Central district interfere with several good stories as he was being sketched. Depew told Higgins that President Garfield once said to him, "Chauncey, you might be president if you'd quit your everlasting funny stories." And Depew turned to Garfield and said, "Then I'd rather not be president."

FOR DISCUSSION

Community Service Committee In Charge—Mrs. S. S. Lawson, Chairman—Park Improvement on Program In Addition to Ex-Service Men Question

Cooperation of All City Organizations Sought—Zoning Movement Interests Women—City Manager C. A. Bingham to Tell Clubs of Urgent Needs of City

BY MARGARET SIMPSON

The Community Service committee of the Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. S. S. Lawson, chairman, is making extensive plans for the luncheon and open meeting of the Federation at the Barr Hotel, November 22. The committee plans to arouse more interest among the club women in the local welfare problems.

One committee of the Federation is to be in charge of an open meeting, explaining to the delegates represented, the work being done by the committee and the need of cooperation of every club woman in the city.

The park extensions improvement movement, which has been so widely discussed, is to be one of the topics on the program.

Frank E. Harman is to be asked to give the talk.

The problems of the ex-service men will be one of the afternoon discussions. So few of the club women realize the work being done for these men by the Legion and various patriotic organizations and Mrs. Lawson has planned to have a speaker at this meeting.

Another problem to be brought before the meeting is in the interest of the zoning of the city for building restrictions. The women's clubs feel that this is a necessity and great need in our city and have decided to look into the problem. They will ask City Manager Bingham to talk.

The Community Service committee have decided to aid in the blind movement in the community which Mrs. Francis Robbins, chairman of the state committee for the placement of blind talent, has begun in this vicinity. Although definite arrangements were made at their meeting Friday, the work is expected to begin in the near future.

Mrs. Lawson's committee includes Mrs. C. S. Lathrop, Mrs. Fred Ash, Mrs. L. H. Rogers and Miss Violet Bradley.

Interest in Good Book Week essays has been shown by the large number of essays received from the children in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. A committee composed of Rev. Walter Smith, Mrs. Foss Zartman, and Mrs. William Wilson will meet at the library Monday afternoon to judge these. A beautiful illustrated book is to be presented to the writer of the most interesting essay in each grade.

Interesting programs, including both lectures and playettes, will be given on this week by the Philadelpha Lincoln and Garfield school central high school has planned a play, "Friends in Book Week" which will be presented by the Adorian society in the high school auditorium Thursday afternoon. A program was given by Junior central high Thursday and took talks were given at the three week meetings at South High last week.

The exhibits of Children's books is beautiful and inexpensive. The book week will continue this week. They include picture books, books of poetry, history, travel, biography, and fiction. An interesting collection of early children's books, including New England primer, and early picture books were loaned to the library by Dr. Azariah Root, Librarian of Bowdoin College.

The fundamental purpose of book week is to make the children realize that reading is not only a tool but a source of joy and inspiration.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bigley, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mosier, W. Market-st., have returned from a motor trip to Cleveland.

The Matinee Bridge club will be entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. M. C. Newton, 118 N. Collett-st., Wednesday at 1 o'clock.

WASHINGTON THRILLS OVER MRS. COOLIDGE AS HOSTESS

President's Wife Is Welcomed As Society Leader For Next Four Years

BY JEAN JARVIS
(Special to The Lima News)
WASHINGTON — Voteless Washington, which takes its politics mainly as they come, is already displaying the "thrill" it feels over the outcome of the past election by besieging the White House with felicitations for its master and burling of delight for the First Lady of the Land—now and to be.

For the dignified White House has never so unhesitatingly and friendly welcome as it has with Mrs. Coolidge playing hostess there—and the city is duly glad that she will remain to smile at it another four years. Always fond of people, in her brief sojourn in the home of the presidents, she has already made it a rendezvous for society, residential, diplomatic and official.

She likes to dance and she dances beautifully. She is fond of music. She has a keen interest in pretty nearly everything that comes along, including baseball. Furthermore, Mrs. Coolidge is one of the youngest women to be White House chaperone in latter day annals. Mrs. Cleveland, to be sure, was much her junior, but despite the forty-five years which inquisitive folk, with a bent for historic accuracy, have discovered Mrs. Coolidge boasts no one on a guess would give the First Lady "credit" for one minute beyond 38 or 40. Now everybody knows, forty is the best of all ages, for one may look forward or backward with equal zest and eagerness.

Moreover, Mrs. Coolidge has been long enough in Washington to know the ropes. No matter how efficient one's secretary, or how attentive one's friendly helpers, nothing equals first hand knowledge of Washington, which is a city apart. The capital has as many individual airs and graces as a prima donna and was to anyone, in whatsoever station, who disregards the little frolics and the follies of the doughty old town on the Potomac.

It took a world war to shake Washington out of her mold and even to this day she's a bit sullen that the supposedly impossible was accomplished. Washington "took to" Mrs. Coolidge from the moment of her arrival so the stage is all set for happy days ahead.

Many women already known to fame will help the good work along. Mrs. Nicholas Longworth is slated to play the role of "speaker's wife," if the political wisecracks are guessing right. She will succeed Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett, who after March 4 goes into the senatorial group.

"And what will Alice Roosevelt do?" in what the tea table deponents are trying to figure out. "She's always done so very much as she pleased; never mind about making calls; never mind about heading committees; never mind about anything outside; going her own way road in her own way."

When Alice arrives in any company everybody looks around her. When she is ready to depart—well, she just departs. Can a "speaker's wife" perform, or must she conform?

And just in the thick of wondering what the rumor that "Alice Roosevelt is writing her autobiography" bobs up for discussion. Will she just stick to the writing, supposing she really is putting down on paper the truly thrilling life she has enjoyed? Or will she assume the role of political leader's helpmate and develop that gift for politics that many persons declare she possesses? It's a moot question. And then—after March 4—what of Brother Theodore, who went down to defeat in the New York gubernatorial race?

Colonel and Mrs. Theodore will be missed if they fail to return to Washington. Never a more charmingly, dainty personage than Mrs. Roosevelt—and among ourselves, I don't know anybody who dresses to her style so beautifully as does the wife of the assistant secretary of the navy.

She has a perfect genius for clothes and she is one of the very few women of any age or station who can dare to be picturesque and still escape being either eccentric or bizarre.

A MILL GIRL CINDERELLA

LAWRENCE, Mass. — (Special) — It all came out just as she had dreamed!

Clara Jacobo came back to her mill town home with flowers strewn at her feet, with the spotlight playing upon her face and the cheering of crowds in her ears.

She had dreamed just such a scene as she sat at the yarn pool in one of the many mills. She would hum an operatic aria as the spotlight spun off product.

That was eight years ago. "Clara," the mill girl, had a fine voice. Everyone knew that. Just how fine it was not even the girl knew. One day somebody told her it had grand opera timbre.

The Jacobos were mill town folk. It was not an easy matter to take Clara from the pool and send her to a training school in Italy. It meant skipping of pennies and saving. But there were five sisters, three brothers and a father to contribute.

And they are the proudest family in the mill town today. For Clara has come back, but not before she made audiences at the Manhattan Opera House, New York, give her proper attention. She had determined that the "old home town" wouldn't hear her until she had been approved by New York.

But that's all over now. Lawrence's Cinderella came home in a gay coach. "But there was one hitch in my happiness," she says. "My mother was not there. She died just before I went to Italy and it was she who encouraged me and buoyed my hopes. I would rather have had her there than anything in the world."

The Upstreamers club met with Miss Elsie Selbert and Miss Irma Thomas, 615 Atlantic-av. Thursday evening. Plans were made for a Minstrel to be given by the members in the near future. Hearts was the diversion and at the conclusion of the game Miss Marie Broge was successful.

In a fortnight, Misses Louise and Lurleen Stallsmith, 734 E. Vine-st., will be hostesses.

Mrs. Willard Hilly was hostess to members of the Homecare club with a covered dish luncheon Thursday. Members responded to roll call with current events. Mrs. Ray Weaver, Mrs. Harry Gleaves, and Mrs. Phillips were guests.

The club will meet in a fortnight with Mrs. George Rich, Elida-rd.

A 12-in-One Cream

Applies my best beauty helps
By Edna Wallace Hopper

In my Youth Cream alone my experts combine a dozen great beauty helps.

The basis is an ideal cream. Then it contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Then all the best modern science knows to foster and feed, to soften and protect the skin.

My marvelous complexion shows what such cream does. My rosy and girlish complexion at my age. No mere cold cream could do that.

My Youth Cream comes in two types—cold cream and vanishing. I use the cold cream as a night cream. The vanishing cream daytimes at a powder base. So this cream is always on my face to foster and protect.

That identical cream to you—Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream—at 60c per jar.

You will be amazed to learn how much a cream can do. A cream with multiple effects. Yet all these things together cost no more than common cream alone.

Mail this coupon for a sample to Mrs. Beauty Book comes with it. Let it bring to you what it brings to me.

KURTZMANN
THE PIANO THAT ENDURES

ENDURANCE is the great test of piano value and the Kurtzmann, for 76 years, has won country-wide reputation as "the piano that endures."

Kurtzmann Endurance applies to the tone as well as to the mechanical features. It is a fine thing to know that the clear, true, voice-like tone of the Kurtzmann, which is such a delight when you first hear it, will stay with you as long as you have a Kurtzmann in your home.

The full bell-metal plate, doubly reinforced; the first-quality Adirondack spruce sounding board; laminated bass and treble bridges and pin-lock; balanced keys; and the six-coat, super-varnish finish are some of the reasons for the great endurance which is built into every Kurtzmann.

Step in and let us tell you the whole story!

PARENTS, HERE'S TIP- ON CHRISTMAS TOYS

House Will Sound Like Zoo or Aviation Field if You Buy Latest

BY JESSIE HENDERSON

NEW YORK—(Special)—The season of "peace on earth" is going to be about as full of peace and quiet in the home this year as a day at the Bronx zoo. This is going to be a local Christmas—and every gift destined to help fill the young folks' stockings must make a loud and life-like noise. Although it is not yet Thanksgiving, the fifth-av toy shops have assembled row upon row of miniature reproductions of the creatures of the great outdoors, animated each of them, at least vocally. Designers of playthings have evidently just returned en masse from a long and successful sojourn in the jungle. They have heard the jackel scream, the parrot screech, the tiger roar, the elephant trumpet, the rhino howl and the monkey chatter. All these sounds they have translated carefully into little things—miniatures of tin and bone and tautly stretched hide. Then they have placed the thingamajigs inside miniature jungle beasts, equipped the necks or the tumplums with keys to wind up the vocal cords, and turned the result loose to rage up and down beneath the Christmas tree.

Even inanimate objects are equipped with a larynx and other facilities, emphasis being laid on the accuracy with which the faithful walls of the field and forest are reproduced. Take, for example, blocks. In your day and ours, blocks were merely what the name implies. You built out of them, or if they had animals and a B C's theon, you stood them in geometric figures and imbibed a dash of general education during the play hour.

DIFFERENT TODAY
Today, with the increasingly complex psychology of childhood, all this innocuous paraphernalia has been done away with. The young lady who at the age of eleven swanks into a barber shop for a bob clip and uses a lipstick while waiting her turn, isn't going to be put off at the age of 2 to 3 with mere lumps of wood, even tho they have handsome animals on their sides.

Toys are being made intricate to suit the modern intricacies of childhood. Consequently when little Margaret exclaims over the pretty lion block, it exclaims right back at little Margaret. It's a Polar bear that glowers from the block, the block glowers at Margaret all the while she has it tilted. The nature lover may obtain many delightful effects by placing, for example, a wolf and an arctic seal block in juxtaposition and letting them howl and cough defiance at each other for—oh, for as long as grandmother will stand for it.

Once upon a time a Noah's Ark was a gabled scow into which baby fingers laboriously inserted painted wooden animals. Baby fingers aren't doing any more unnecessary labor than adult fingers these days. Noah's Ark now is a resplendent craft with a wide, red door. All the baby fingers do is to pull a cord, and out come the animals, marching two by two and emitting dolorous sounds. This invention, as it happens, hails from Italy. Like most novelties, it is none too inexpensive but it is being eagerly seized upon by hard beset hostesses who intend it for an original table centerpiece before the baby fingers claim it for their own.

HILARITY FOR ELDERLY

You've no idea how it helps to bridge a dull moment in the Christmas dinner, when James pulls the cord and the animals march forth across the table. It's a safe guess that the older members of the family will get even more hilarity out of this movie picture ark—say, at about the salad course—than the youngsters will ever see in it. Youngsters are a good deal more blasé than the old folks, these days.

Parents, however, will appreciate a third new toy which the season stuffs into the communal stocking. This plaything is a seaplane, modeled on one of the world flight machines. Instead of flying wildly hither and yon about the ceiling, as most toy planes hitherto has done, it skims just above the floor, under the lower branches of Christmas tree. It is guaranteed not to rise above a certain height—a fact which will make the chandeliers and wall lights look a trifle less on the day after Christmas like a Wild West movie had been practiced in the living room.

Even the seaplane, however, is vocal, with a very fair imitation of a real plane's appalling vibration. So where Christmas doesn't sound like the zoo, it'll probably sound like McCook field. (Copyright, 1934)

The Young Ladies' Aid society of the Market-st Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. A. F. Basinger, W. Market-st. At this meeting the society will hold their bazaar of linens, fancy work, and hand-made articles suitable for holiday gifts.

The committee in charge of the bazaar are Mrs. M. M. Seale, Mrs. B. F. Thomas, Mrs. Harry Robinson, Mrs. H. M. Kamerer, Mrs. H. H. Hughes, Mrs. G. E. Williams, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Fred Beam, Mrs. P. R. Marshall, and Mrs. J. H. Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Shifferly, 707 College-av., entertained at their home Friday evening for the pleasure of Mrs. C. J. Mistle, Rodney, Ontario. The affair was a surprise and following an evening spent with cards and games the hostesses, assisted by Miss Mary Shifferly and Miss Esther Plummer.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Paul, Mrs. Ida Good, Mrs. Emma Grunden, Mrs. Jesse Bender, Mrs. Grace Jones, Mrs. Florence Morris, Mrs. Anna Heason, Mrs. Gwen Maxson, Mrs. Ethel Hollinsworth, Mrs. Hattie Swartz, Mrs. Grace Deiber, Mrs. Fay Lutz, Miss Emma Boop, Miss Emma Purdy, Miss Dorothy Foltz, and Miss Esther Plummer.

Mrs. Fred Boop held high score in Mah Jongg Wednesday evening when Mrs. Wilbur Bowersock, W. Murphy-st., entertained her Mah Jongg club. Mrs. Ivan McWilliam was consoled. Later a luncheon was served to the members.

In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Leon Burgoon, E. Kibby-st.

A southern dinner will be served by the Women's Missionary society of the Trinity M. E. church at the church Wednesday at noon. Mrs. R. O. Moore and Mrs. O. F. Mikesell are in charge of the affair.

POOR LITTLE RICH KIDS HAVE NO HOME OF OWN AND CAN'T BE ADOPTED

BOBBIE AND AUDREY AINSLIE

NEW YORK—(Special)—Anybody would adore the two chubby Ainslie tots, Bobby, 4, and Audrey, 2.

Anybody, that is, except their parents. Their mother, Marie Newton Ainslie, has not been heard from for two years, since she placed them in the Fieldston School at Riverdale. And George J. Ainslie, her husband, coldly disclaims them and refuses to pay their bills.

So they are staying on the charitable love of the school director, gray-haired Mrs. Harriet Haddon.

Adoption into a wealthy and kindly family is denied by the legal requirement for the consent of the parents. This is the status today—the tragic anti-climax of the romance between Ainslie, flying ace and son of a wealthy art dealer and pretty Marie Newton, the dancer who used to lure trade to fashionable Rector's. Their marriage was wrecked in 1921 when the husband walked into Rector's one night, round his wife at a table with Roy Wingate, rich and married, and knocked Wingate to the floor. He instituted an alienation suit then against Wingate, but Wingate committed suicide.

Mrs. Haddon now is seeking payment from Ainslie for the care of the children. A new organized euchre club to be known as the Suft Us club, met Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anspach. Mrs. J. Orville Ebling and J. J. Drosch held high score and the consolation trophy was awarded to Mrs. Ernest Anderregg and Otto Tatlinger. Later a delicious luncheon was served.

Members of the club include: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderregg, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anspach, Mr. and Mrs. J. Orville Ebling, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Drosch, and daughter, Alice.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Anderregg, Hazel-av.

Wednesday evening 400 members of the First Reformed church tendered Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Hoerneman with a surprise reception in the parish house in remembrance of the closing of the 10th year of Rev. Hoerneman's pastorate here. Roy Schults talked of the great progress of the church in the last ten years and Rev. Bruce Jacobs, pastor of the Calvary Reformed church, gave a word of greetings.

A playette was given by several members of the Young People's society including Miss Marie Muehlbaum, Miss Sophia Holtz and Calvin Koch.

During the evening, Rev. and Mrs. Hoerneman were presented with a lovely console Victrola.

At a late hour refreshments were served.

Home Guards of Trinity church will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the church. A dinner at 5 o'clock will follow the program.

Mrs. H. B. Holmes, of near Elida, was hostess to the Mystery club with a covered dish luncheon Thursday. Thanksgiving suggestions were carried out in the table decorations.

Following the luncheon Mrs. F. E. Kirkendall played several piano numbers and in the contest Mrs. L. H. Konkelman was successful. In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. F. N. Nelson, Fourth-st.

Mrs. A. D. DeCurtin will entertain the S. C. D. club with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Jade Tea room Thursday.

Safe Fat Reduction

Why be fat? The answer of most fat people is that constant dieting is hard, continual exercise is tiresome and exhaustive—and then, too, it might be harmful to force the weight down. That was the old-fashioned idea. Today in Marmola Prescription Tablets all these difficulties are overcome. Just a pleasant little tablet after each meal and at bedtime causes fat to vanish. This modern method is easy, entails no dieting or exercising and has the added advantage of cheapness.

Get a box of these tablets and start taking them now. Within a short time you will be getting rid of fat steadily and easily without starvation diet or strenuous exercise. You will be comfortable and able to enjoy the food you like and want. Even after taking off many pounds, there will be no flabbiness or wrinkles remaining. You will feel 100 percent better! All drug stores, the world over sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a box, or the Marmola Company, General Motors Building, Detroit, Mich., will gladly send them to you on receipt of the price, advance.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Perhaps the most interesting story found in the early evening on the floor of the sun room at Flower Acres was the story of the murder of Mr. Raynor. The story was told by the man who had been arrested in connection with the murder of Mr. Raynor. The man was a young man, named Raynor, and he was the son of the man who had been arrested. ## TODAY'S PATTERN 4565. This is a good model for business, shopping or traveling. It may be worn under a coat or cape, and is suitable for wash or wool fabrics. The sleeve may be short, or in wrist length. The collar is convertible. In brown crepe or linen, with pipings of white or green, this design is very pleasing. The width of the skirt at the foot is 15-8 yards. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 4 1/4 yards of 40 inch material if made with long sleeves. With short sleeves 3 7/8 yards is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

ly, was his assistant. She was a small scrap of a girl, slender as a willow wand, inconspicuous, unnoticeable, almost invisible, so persistently did she keep in the background. Yet she was always there, always at the beck and call of Pennington Wise, and her assistance was as valuable as it was unostentatious.

From a secluded alcove of the terrace, almost hidden by a tall palm, Zia for that was the girl's name, looked out, rapidly, over the flower acres. No one noticed her. At last, Wise drew a long sigh, as of very surfeit of the beauty before him, and turned to the group who awaited his questions with widely different anticipations.

It was tea time, always a pleasant function at the Raynor house, and Ezra Goddard had arranged that the first inquiries of the detective should be conducted under the guise of a social chat rather than an official grilling.

It transpired that the detective knew the history of the case. "Be careful of your statements," he counseled. "There is nothing so uncertain as human evidence. If I am to get at the facts of this case, I must have the most meticulous efforts on the part of you all to speak the truth. Let us take this point of Mrs. Raynor's position when Mrs. Turner put the lights on. Miss Raynor, can you swear that Mrs. Raynor was leaving the room?"

"Yes—oh, yes."
"Was she frightened looking?"
"Yes, indeed she was."
"Ah—how did you observe this when her back was toward you? How do you know that she did not wear an expression of triumph?"

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

After writing the foregoing pages, Jack, I went back and read again the first of your letter. I expect it was a perfect natural set of circumstances that made your first glimpse of Leslie when you reached her father's house just before he died so tragic. I know it was a perfectly masculine idiosyncrasy for you to think that Leslie would be awaiting you even when she had no idea that you were coming that day or for that matter coming at all. You must remember that you had not written her since she left after your quarrel with her, and I presume that she went to that party purposely to forget her unhappiness at your neglect. I rather smiled at that part of your letter which was written before your father-in-law's death, for I could just imagine how you, Jack, who have always had an idea that the women to whom you have paid any attention were always after awaiting your lordly "assure, must have felt. You had a kind of an idea that Leslie was spending her time at her father's sick bed and weeping in her room, now didn't you? The sight of her "all dolled up with the damned pearls around her neck" made you furious. I think at that that it was good for you, Jack, who you could not help showing a mean selfish jealousy when she arrived looking her loveliest. I was really glad when you got yours from that circle comb when Leslie's head bumped into your eye and I hope in my inmost soul that a cold tear clutched your breast by "giving" you when you found that your wife had fainted. At the risk of being misunderstood, old man, I am going to say that I do not think that Leslie has ever had a fair deal from much of the fact that you from the time you left her father's sick bed and weeping in her room, now didn't you? The sight of her "all dolled up with the damned pearls around her neck" made you furious. ## The Operation I Avoided—

MRS. IDA M. COFFMAN
SIDELL, ILL.

IF there is one thing more than another a woman dreads, it is a surgical operation, and to be told that one is necessary is very disheartening.

Hospitals are grand institutions, and undoubtedly many operations are necessary. However, we have received hundreds of letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation had been deemed advisable.

Every woman who suffers as Mrs. Coffman did naturally wishes to avoid an operation if possible, and the remarkable statements which she makes in her letter will be read with interest by women everywhere.

Mrs. Coffman's Letter Follows:

SIDELL, ILLINOIS.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side which was noticeable at all times but sometimes it was almost unbearable and I could not even let the bed-clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years but not so badly until the last 18 months, and had become so rundown that I cared for nobody and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help and the doctor told me that an operation was all there was left for me. I would not consent to that so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house and when my two little girls reach womanhood I shall advise them to take it."

WHAT ARE GREATEST SATISFACTIONS?

The Outstanding Five—The Urge to Build; Home; Children; Books; Yourself; the Future—Weighing All Prizes Satisfactory

BY BRUCE BARTON

LIFE is a kind of table d'hôte dinner. The food varies somewhat in quality according to the luck of the individual eater; the millionaire can have it served a little more daintily, and without getting quite so many spots on his vest; but the main courses are the same for everybody. The menu runs about like this:

APPETIZERS
Birth ..... Carefree childhood ..... Kid dreams

OYSTERS
Schooling (You have to cultivate the taste for it, but very nourishing.)

SOUP

Your start in the world.

ENTREE

The years of solid work and achievement

SALAD

Love ..... Marriage ..... Children

DESSERT

The rewards of hard work.

COFFEE ..... CIGARS

Old age ..... Contemplation, comfort and talk.

You may skip some courses if you choose, you may, for example, if you are foolish or selfish, decide not to be married or not to have children. You may add some trifles in the way of travel or the knick knacks of fame. But you cannot add very much. The main courses are fixed and all the money or power in the world will not alter or add to them very much.

THE BUILDING OF A HOUSE

On this menu I am only about half way down, and so this cannot be a complete report. I can only comment on the satisfactions of life in so far as I have experienced them. The dessert and the coffee, which I have ahead of me, may be better than anything that has come yet. But up to the present moment I will tell the world that I have heartily enjoyed the dinner; if given the opportunity I would be perfectly willing to go thru to the end, then rest for a hundred years or so, and come back and go thru again. To me the world is a very satisfactory boarding house. I have had about my share of disappointments, but I have found five satisfactions that outweigh them all a million times.

Without any attempt to arrange them in the order of their relative importance, let me give you my list of satisfactions and see how it checks up with yours.

1. The satisfaction of building a home. One day in February, my wife and I stood on a New England hill-side looking down at a white cottage beside a little lake. The white cottage had, to us, a fascinating history. More than twenty years before, my father and mother, then ministering to a church in Boston, had bought it for a few hundred dollars as a summer stamping ground for their five youngsters of whom I am the oldest.

THE RUB IN OUR WHEEL.
The house was fragrant with memories and vine-covered with boyish dreams. In the lake behind it my brothers and I had learned to handle a canoe and to swim. On the shores of the lake we had camped, lying under the big tent which father had bought at an army sale, and listening to the wind in the tall pines. As we grew older we scattered to various colleges and later into business, but always the little house drew us back in the summer. It was the hub in our wheel, the center of our common life.

The first house across the street was offered for sale, and father bought it. There my wife and I spent our honeymoon and in the first grand enthusiasm of marriage, when conquering the world seems such a simple matter, we decided that we must have a summer home and we purchased the little white cottage from my father. It had been ours for several years on the February day to which I have referred, and now—standing on the hillside, with the architect's plans in our hands—we were plotting it as it was going to be when the remodeling should be finished.

That was the beginning of a wonderful experience. (Not the beginning really, for we had had the plans all winter to study and fuss over, and change.) Every week brought some new interest. We saw the firm foundations laid—big granite boulders (eternal as the hills). We saw the framework go up, the pipes go in, the chimneys rise layer by layer. And one Sunday morning very early we slipped into the house together, climbed the ladder to the unfinished second floor, gathered a basket full of shavings and boards, and started the first little fire in the fire place of our guest room.

A BAPTISM OF FIRE
I don't think we are more sentimental than other folks. Certainly we are not much for ceremonies. But sitting there on a summer morning, looking at the fire, we were suddenly very silent. We were thinking of what a wonderful thing it is—a home, of what guests would come to it, to add to a daughter, and there was taking a before breakfast dip in the lake. My boy had learned to swim a few weeks before, and that morning encouraged by both of us, my little girl jumped in and took her first strokes. She was the littlest of humanity—a floating doll on the big lake a breast—and the boy and I cheered her on. Every father will know the feeling, certainly in such moments one realizes one of the great satisfactions of life.

THE GLITTERING THINGS
I The satisfaction of building a library. I stood one day in a New York office, looking out over the city. It was raining. The man beside me who owned the business and had made a fortune, stood motionless staring out. Presently he spoke.

"I'm having a devil of a mental experience," he said. "I've worked my heart out to build this business. It's built, and now that I have done it it doesn't seem to be at all what I want."

A lot of our troubles are caused by the fact that we never definitely decide what we want. Nature has hung up a number of glittering prizes to keep us puffing along in the race. At the outset when our eyes are young and filled with the wonder of the sun, the stars look very splendid indeed. But the stars go by and we are left with a little tired and as we draw near to things that seemed so glittering they often begin to look faded.

People have asked me, "What sort of books do you buy?" What sort should we pick up in starting a library? My answer is that, with the exception of Dr. Eliot's Five Foot Shelf of Books and a few encyclopedias, I have never bought any one. I like to buy books two or three at a time, as they interest me and as I read them. A library built after this fashion becomes a living monument to the growth of your mind. In it you can see the progress of your own tastes and interests. It is personal, friendly, filled with books that live and speak; not merely with volumes that sit and slumber.

Boy only books that interest you, but try to expand your interests. If you enjoy only fiction, try some biography—Franklin, Washington, Benvenuto Cellini, Boswell, Johnson, Locke's Life of Scott, Pepys' Diary, travel a little, go vagabonding around the world with Frank Beatrix, your mule and go with Borrow in The Bible in Spain. Live with essayists like Emerson and Montaigne; you will know all men better, including yourself. Form a good habit of buying books regularly—one or two a week. Gradually you become the friend and confidant of the great men of all ages, you share all stirring adventures, are a citizen of all times. However scant your natural environment, you have an outlet into the wider world, your

"You must have great satisfaction in the business you have built," my friend "All over America the name of your company has become synonymous with quality merchandise and fair dealing. To have erected such an enterprise and gained a fortune to which no criticism could attach must be a matter of pride to any man."

The millionaire was silent for several minutes. Finally he raised his eyes, and there was suffering in them.

"Yes I suppose I should be happy," he said. "But I am not. What does it all amount to, when your son is a fool?"

There are a good many things that I would do for several million dollars, or even one million. But I wouldn't have traded places with that millionaire, and neither would you of course. As I sat along towards forty I find that my own career seems every year a little less important as compared with the careers of my three kids. And if anybody should ask me "At what hour of your life were you supremely happy?" I think I should answer "I have had several big hours, but none that gave me more delight than the hour between six and seven on summer morning four years ago."

I had got up early—or been pulled out, to speak more correctly—and with my son, age five, and as that of the average man. Yet there are statues there that mean nothing to me—and the men for whom they were fashioned were great men only fifty or a hundred and fifty years ago. The river of life flows swiftly, and the little stones that we set up as monuments are swept back into the current and quickly lost.

Competence of a Mental Fortune—Fame Is Flimsy and Fleeting—Money Cannot Satisfy at the Cost of Self-Respect

SOMETHING ENDURING AND REAL

Money is another prize, and a good one. I like it; so do you. It is one of the things that keep me at work, but the folk who trade everything for money make a bad swap; you know enough instances, and so do I, to leave no doubt about that.

Weighing all the prizes, and reading the lives of lots of men who are supposed to have done well in the world, I have come to this point of view—that life is only satisfactory when you play it as a game. When you say to yourself "Here am I, a human being just a little different from any other who has ever lived before or will ever live again I don't have 100 per cent equipment by any means. There are some notable lacks in my make-up, and no notable points of strength. But this is the hand that has been dealt me in the game, and I must play it. And I shall be judged not by what I accomplish in contrast with other men, but by what I make of myself in comparison with what I might have made."

Neither fame nor money can satisfy if you buy them at the cost of self respect. But to be able to say truthfully "I have done the best that could be done with the tools and the chance I had"—that is something enduring and real.

AS WITH PEPS, SO WITH US

6 The satisfaction of building for the future. I do not know you, gentle reader, but I can tell you one thing about yourself. Somewhere in a drawer of your desk there is an old envelope and on the back of it are many little pencilled figures. You wrote them there one evening when you were talking with your wife, and figuring out how much progress you had made in the world, and planning what you will do when you are fifty or sixty and have saved enough to be comfortable. We all do it, it is one of the great old sports and has been since the race began.

Witness old Samuel Pepys in his diary:

"With my mind much eased talking long in bed with my wife about our frugal life for the time to come, proposing to her what I could and would do if I were worth 2000 pounds, that is, to be a knight and keep my coach, which pleased her."

What a wise provision of nature it is that we should all enter the world naked—without money or position, compelled to strive out and make a place for ourselves. What a dull thing life would be if we were robbed—as the sons of rich men are—of the pleasures of saving and planning and dreaming about what we will do in the future when we have won the means and the right.

In so rich a country as this, most of us, who live wisely, can look forward to having some little competence in old age. The thing we need to worry most about is not a financial but a mental fortune. Will we have a philosophy with which to face old age and death? Will we be as comfortable inside as outside, when the autumn days arrive?

A philosophy cannot come to us from our parents; it cannot be bought in books; it cannot be bought ready made from another who has lived. It must be made, each man for himself as he thinks and grows and matures and succeeds. Some never gain a philosophy and there are to be pitied. For surely it is the greatest of all—is to be at peace with your own soul to live so that whether this life be all, or merely a preparation for another, you have the calm self confidence of one who masters his spirit. You have sailed your own boat, according to the rules of the race, and in whatever harbor you may come there will you be at home.

BUSINESS GIRL FEELS LONESOME AND DESIRES MORE BOY FRIENDS

No Pie-eating Shieks Need Apply, She Tells Susie. Smart In Describing Man She Wants—Others Tell Of Troubles In Letters to Lima News Expert

Dear Miss Smart: I am a business girl of 21 with very few boy friends.

Why can't I have them? I don't want any of those pie-eating shieks, just a real man. I dress well, am fairly good looking, have a fair sense of humor and am not a spendthrift, for I have paid my own way thru the last two years of high school and business college. I have a car and am not stuck up, for I can change tires, patch them and change oil, in fact, do everything on the car. I have gone with the boys some, but every time a fellow takes me out he tries to kiss and mash over me and I will not allow it. Then they say I am stuck up.

I am always a silent partner at a dance—they say I am too slow. Now, most a girl leave the dance hall during intermission for putting parties in an automobile just to have a dance? I'd rather stay home and sew patches. When a strange fellow comes into town he will treat me with respect, but never asks me to go anywhere.

WANTS TO KNOW

There is one talent that every girl in the world possesses. If she doesn't possess it, she won't admit that she can't possess it if she tries hard enough. I am now referring to the talent of being popular with men. I realize that many of my readers disagree with me, but I firmly believe that to be popular is as much of an inborn talent as is playing an instrument or making water colors of some animal munching grass in a pasture.

Don't misunderstand me. I do not mean that it is impossible to make yourself more attractive. But I do think that all the yearning and struggle of the wall flower to capture as many beaux as her friend has, are more or less futile. I receive many letters in my mail asking me why they can't have as many boy friends as some one else. Even in the beaux realm life is all a matter of compensations and adjustments.

The secret is this, if you girls who spend so much time and energy and heartaches in trying to be a siren would forget it, and consider how many other things there are just as interesting in life, even to those who are not a vamp, you'll find that you are beginning to accomplish what you set out to do—someone will find you attractive.

HELLO SUSIE

I am a frequent reader of your column and advice. Although I have not been interested in all things that have been asked but I am writing for some advice. I am a Junior in Central high school. Some time ago I was introduced to a girl whom I had longed to know. This young girl seemed to me like a gem. She is sweet and perfect in my view. I have not yet asked her for a date but would like to. I see her daily in my classes but only frequently get to say anything to her. When I do however she talks freely and seems pleased with my conversation. How should I approach her that I do not ask her for a date?

Another thing—I have had two dates with a certain girl. I like her very much. Should I keep on having dates with her?

LONESOME TILCTOR

There are always incidents turning up which would open the way for you to ask this girl for a date. When you have a class party or some function, why not ask to take her? I think that would possibly be the simplest way. Paint heart never won fair lady, so the wisest solution is this—If you want a date with the girl ask her for one, whether

Dear Miss Smart:

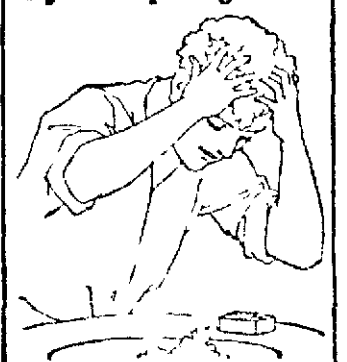

I am a high school girl and there has been a lot of gossip about me running after the fellows. Most of this is false. When I heard I'd been called a flirt I was very angry and avoided them ever since. But I do believe I can go on with it. When I was walking and talking with the boys, my heart aches but I won't have people talk about me. What shall I do?

My dear, it is just natural to a boy and girl to want to walk and talk together as it is for us girls. There is no reason for gossip if a girl conducts herself properly. I certainly would be anything but pleasant to boys and girls. Be natural and friendly. There can be no criticism of the give and take of real school day friends.

Dear Miss Smart:

Can you give me a good recipe for dandruff? BOBBY

Pyorrhea Yields To Chlorine Gas

To those who have followed the reports of the remarkable curative powers of Chlorine Gas in certain diseases, it will be interesting to know that this gas is now available in a simple, inexpensive form known as Jo-Vex. Jo-Vex combines the Chlorine Gas with other valuable elements especially designed and balanced for the treatment of sore and bleeding gums, loose teeth, trench mouth and all forms of Pyorrhea. Thousands of laymen and dentists who have already used this new product are amazed at its wonderful power to heal sore and bleeding gums and stop the dread disease of Pyorrhea which ends in broken health and loose teeth unless conquered.

Almost all good druggists are now supplied with Jo-Vex especially Hutter's Drug Store and Enterprise Drug Store, who have just received large shipments from the laboratory. However, if your druggist's supply is exhausted you may send $1.00 to The Jo-Vex Chemical Co., Akron, Ohio for a full size bottle with complete instructions.

While the Coffee Boiled Her Money Burned

She now has but the charred ashes of $100.00, the savings of months. Afraid of robbers, the $100.00 in bills was placed in a tin can and hidden in the oven. When the boys came home they built a fire in the stove and while the coffee boiled the $100.00 burned.

Now this unfortunate woman's only hope is to recover from the embers at least a part of her money through the U. S. Treasury. Many people and possibly you hide away in unsafe places sums of money ranging from ten to a hundred dollars or more.

From now on this woman will bring her money to the bank where it is safe.

Dig up those hidden dollars and trade the sugar bowl on the shelf for a savings account at "The Big Friendly Bank" where your money is safe and always ready.

SNAPPY WEATHER PUTS PEP IN THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

WEEK BRINGS MANY EVENTS WORTH WHILE

"Passing Show" Booked For Faurot; "Cuddle Up" Now Playing

Billy Earle's Jazmania Revue 1-Week's Attraction at New Orpheum Theatre

Snappy weather and snappy shows are about to draw the throngs toward the bright lights and into the theatres of the city. Snappy and full are about to come and football weather brings realizations that good times are in store for football fans.

It is always an event of special interest when "The Passing Show," the Shubert masterpiece, comes to town. It will be here this week at the Faurot Opera House on Nov. 14 and 15. For three performances, the show, humorous, timely, and full of life, with some exceptionally beautiful spectacles, is presented.

As the New Orpheum Theatre this week will be seen in "The Passing Show," a delightful musical comedy, which has received many compliments in other cities. The week's engagement will start with the Sunday matinee and the change of program Thursday and other regular New Orpheum features.

"Cuddle Up," a musical comedy of the popular variety will be seen for the final two times today at the Faurot Opera House. This delightful production is the third of the popular attractions booked for Saturdays and Sundays during the winter.

"PASSING SHOW"
Shubert Production at Faurot, Nov. 14 and 15

There is a change taking place in the theatrical world. If you don't believe it go and see "The Passing Show" when it appears at the Faurot Opera House for three performances Nov. 14 and 15.

It used to be that a popular New York production on tour could get away with almost anything. Shady tricks and scenes that could only be shown under the guise of "art" were the main standby of the offering. The patrons would stand for it because they had paid a good price for their seats and felt they had to get something in return.

From all indications the Shubert production this year is on a very different plane. Real comedy has been installed as a feature and every effort is made to obtain humorous situations with their seats and felt they had to get something in return.

At the same time tableaux have been "dressed up" a bit, or rather the girls have been permitted to cover up more of their anatomy. In the interests of beautiful scenery and really distinctive stage pictures, it is a great deal different from the big road shows of a few years ago.

And theatre audiences like it. Reports from cities where the production has been seen this season show that it has gone over big and the engagements have been all too short. This speaks well for the public and its taste along show lines. Comedy, dancing, singing and spectacles of unusual merit make one forget the more suggestive shows of yesterday.

Lima is one of the smallest cities to have this organization for three performances. Ft. Wayne has it for two and other cities of a larger population do not fare nearly as well. Yet it is believed that with the exceptional production this year the three performances will be all too few for the large number of theatregoers who will want to attend.

Other cities say it is a "real show."

MERTON HERE
Noted Production at the Quinsa Today

Two new Paramount pictures that should attract extraordinary audiences to the Quinsa this week are announced for showing at that theatre. Today brings the Paramount picture of "Morton of the Movies," with Glenn Hunter, who was recently seen here at the Faurot in the stage version. On Thursday the attraction will be "The City That Never Sleeps," with a cast that includes Ricardo Cortez, Katharine Williams, Louise Dresser and Virginia Lee Corbin.

Aside from the fact that "Morton of the Movies" represents the outstanding spectacle of the movie industry making fun of itself, it also represents, according to leading critics, the greatest piece of film to come from the Famous Players studios since "The Ten Commandments." They agree that it has been so well done, thanks to James Cruze and Glenn Hunter, that the laughs roll along with the ease of a waterfall and with the smooth frequency of machine gun fire.

The story of "Morton" is familiar to almost every theatre-goer. First there is a man named Morton who is a very successful business man and a few weeks later it was held in the country over as being a time piece of literature in that it so accurately and appealingly expressed the symbolic youth of this land. Then came the stage adaptation, which appeared at the Faurot several weeks ago with Glenn Hunter in the title role and backed by a remarkable production.

Now the picture, Hunter is again in the lead in so perfectly fitting playing once more the movie sick youth, the boy who wanted to improve pictures by acting in them. With Viola Dana handling the role of the halfway hard-boiled and half-way sentimental Montague girl, it is in competent hands. Ethel Waters, Charles Clegg and Elliott Roth lead the supporting cast.

On Thursday comes another James Cruze production, "The City That Never Sleeps." It was transferred to the screen from Leroy Scott's novel, "Mother O'Hay" and also indelibly a melodramatic effort, will nevertheless be found a strong entertainment thru Cruze's imaginative and clever direction and the inspired work of an excellent cast.

Tom Mix has scored another movie picture comedy success in "Ladies to Board" which opens a two-day stay at the Majestic theatre this afternoon. It is humorous, vivacious and full of Mixian action and is just the type of picture admirably adapted to Mix's work.

William Dudley Pelley, who wrote the story, has furnished a genuinely funny situation. Mix inherits an old ladies' home and his efforts to conduct it get himself and Pee Wee Holmes into all manner of laugh provoking complications. Tony, the wonder horse, is at Tom's disposal and he makes the best of his superb horsemanship. Gertrude Olmstead plays opposite the star and the remainder of the cast includes Phil McCullough, Gertrude Claire and Dolores Rousseau.

An entire serial, "The Son of Tarzan," will be the feature at this theatre on Tuesday, appearing for one day only. There will be two performances, one in the afternoon and one at night. Starting Wednesday for two days, Host Gibson will appear in "Not a Drum Was Heard," "Wandering Daughters" will be the offering for the remainder of the week.

How delightfully droll his complex situation if he succeeds in the conquest of his wife he proves himself a superb actor, but must suffer the anguish of a fond husband if the triumphs as a husband, he still must take a bitter pill because he has failed as an actor.

Of course, he portrays himself in the end, for he has become too eager for a solution. And, of course, the wife says she has known of his deception all along, and Yvonne's rage is supreme.

This company has been well recommended to the New Orpheum management by Harvey Arlington, manager of the Palace theatre in Grand Rapids, Mich. Arlington praised the offering as one that will give full satisfaction in a telegram to the local theatre. The company played in Grand Rapids last week.

As in the productions of the past few weeks a real plot is featured in the advance notices. The public is demanding more than mere music in their musical comedies and the companies coming to the New Orpheum are aware of this fact and ready to give the public what it wants.

Plenty of action, music, costumes and scenic effects combined with an interesting comedian and it is predicted he will prove very popular with New Orpheum audiences this coming week. Booking of this company is in line with the policy of the theatre to show the best popular prices companies available.

Specialties during the coming week will be the Country Store on Wednesday night and Amateur Night on Friday. In the amateur performances awards of $25 will be made to those taking part and it is believed some of the best talent in the city will be seen upon the stage. The regular policy of three shows a day will be adhered to.

As in the productions of the past few weeks a real plot is featured in the advance notices. The public is demanding more than mere music in their musical comedies and the companies coming to the New Orpheum are aware of this fact and ready to give the public what it wants.

Plenty of action, music, costumes and scenic effects combined with an interesting comedian and it is predicted he will prove very popular with New Orpheum audiences this coming week. Booking of this company is in line with the policy of the theatre to show the best popular prices companies available.

In the amateur performances awards of $25 will be made to those taking part and it is believed some of the best talent in the city will be seen upon the stage. There is a change taking place in the theatrical world. If you don't believe it go and see "The Passing Show" when it appears at the Faurot Opera House for three performances Nov. 14 and 15.

It used to be that a popular New York production on tour could get away with almost anything. Shady tricks and scenes that could only be shown under the guise of "art" were the main standby of the offering. The patrons would stand for it because they had paid a good price for their seats and felt they had to get something in return.

From all indications the Shubert production this year is on a very different plane. Real comedy has been installed as a feature and every effort is made to obtain humorous situations with their seats and felt they had to get something in return.

At the same time tableaux have been "dressed up" a bit, or rather the girls have been permitted to cover up more of their anatomy. In the interests of beautiful scenery and really distinctive stage pictures, it is a great deal different from the big road shows of a few years ago.

And theatre audiences like it. Reports from cities where the production has been seen this season show that it has gone over big and the engagements have been all too short. This speaks well for the public and its taste along show lines. Comedy, dancing, singing and spectacles of unusual merit make one forget the more suggestive shows of yesterday.

Lima is one of the smallest cities to have this organization for three performances. Ft. Wayne has it for two and other cities of a larger population do not fare nearly as well. Yet it is believed that with the exceptional production this year the three performances will be all too few for the large number of theatregoers who will want to attend.

Other cities say it is a "real show."

MASTERPIECE IS PRODUCED

"The Guardsman" Held One Of Season's Best

NEW YORK — (Special)—It is the Theatre Guild again that saves the theatrical day.

This time it dashes up in the gay gold, red and blue trappings of a Russian officer to put the touch of buoyant and finished art upon a rather laggard season. In "The Guardsman," Molnar's extremely piquant comedy, the second truly worthwhile play of the year is given; the other was "What Price Glory?"

It is interesting to note that some 11 years ago this same play was given under the name of "Where Ignorance Is Bliss" and came to quick and disastrous finish. Old-timers recall that it was then hastily produced and cast.

At any rate this little comedy masterpiece was rescued from limbo after a dozen years and now seems more up to date than ever.

The tip of high comedy is reached by the situation presented, an actor, with all an actor's little vanities, is wed to an actress, who has not only little vanities but an appetite for amours. Her husband notes signs of her chafing interest and to test her while at the same time setting his ability as an actor, he hits upon the plan to court his own wife while wearing the make-up of a Russian guardsman.

How delightfully droll his complex situation if he succeeds in the conquest of his wife he proves himself a superb actor, but must suffer the anguish of a fond husband if the triumphs as a husband, he still must take a bitter pill because he has failed as an actor.

Of course, he portrays himself in the end, for he has become too eager for a solution. And, of course, the wife says she has known of his deception all along, and Yvonne's rage is supreme.

This company has been well recommended to the New Orpheum management by Harvey Arlington, manager of the Palace theatre in Grand Rapids, Mich. Arlington praised the offering as one that will give full satisfaction in a telegram to the local theatre. The company played in Grand Rapids last week.

As in the productions of the past few weeks a real plot is featured in the advance notices. The public is demanding more than mere music in their musical comedies and the companies coming to the New Orpheum are aware of this fact and ready to give the public what it wants.

Plenty of action, music, costumes and scenic effects combined with an interesting comedian and it is predicted he will prove very popular with New Orpheum audiences this coming week. Booking of this company is in line with the policy of the theatre to show the best popular prices companies available.

Specialties during the coming week will be the Country Store on Wednesday night and Amateur Night on Friday. In the amateur performances awards of $25 will be made to those taking part and it is believed some of the best talent in the city will be seen upon the stage. The regular policy of three shows a day will be adhered to.

GOOD PROGRAMS OFFERED LIMA MOTION PICTURE PATRONS

NOTED STARS APPEARING IN LIMA HOUSES

Glenn Hunter Holds Limelight At Quilna and Sigma for Early Part of Week

George O'Brien Plays Leading Role at Lyric—Majestic, Rialto Bills Good

BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM
Glenn Hunter is very much in the pictorial foreground this week with two offerings appearing at two downtown theatres. "The Silent Watcher," in which he is supported by Bessie Love, continues at the Sigma theatre while "Merton of the Movies," a screen version of his successful stage play, begins an engagement at the Quilna today.

"The Silent Watcher" is a timely drama of love, politics and loyalty and offers the young star a role which suits him admirably. It is an adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "The Altar on the Hill." Tuesday ushers in Constance Talmadge's new comedy success, "Her Night of Romance," in which she appears in the role of a young American heiress who dons school teacher's specs in order to avoid fortune hunters. Ronald Colman is her leading man.

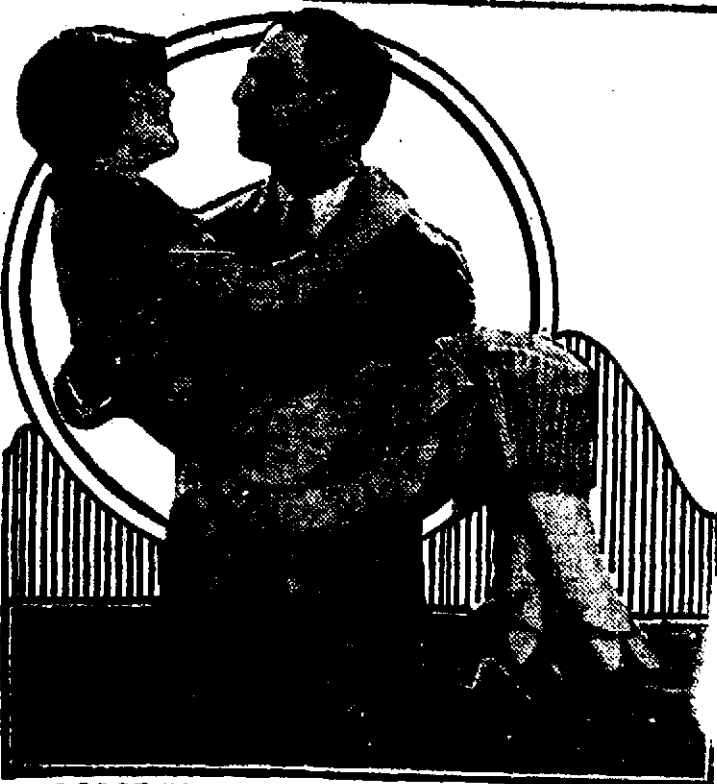

Hunter plays the same role he made famous on the stage in "Merton of the Movies" which opens a four day run this afternoon. The picture is a typically American comedy drama of a small town girl goes to Hollywood to make fame and fortune. Viola Dana plays the Montague girl. The last half of the week will offer "The City That Never Sleeps" with Ben Hur and his cast headed by Ricardo Cortez, Kathryn Williams, Louis Dresser and Virginia Lee Corbin.

Saturday marked the opening of "The Man Who Came Back" at the Lyric theatre where it will remain until Thursday. It is a William Fox production based on the well known book and stage play. George O'Brien and Dorothy Mackaill have the featured roles. "The Cyclone Rider," which opens Thursday is a thrilling melodrama from the pen of Lincoln J. Carter. Reed Howes and Alma Bennett head the cast.

Tom Mix stars in "Ladies to Board" appearing today and Monday at the Majestic. An entire evening, "The Son of Tarzan," will be the attraction on Tuesday. "Not a Drum Was Heard" with Jack Hoxie, comes to this theatre Wednesday for two days and "Wandering Dan" finishes the week.

"The Back Trail" with Jack Hoxie, "The Unknown Purple" and "By Divine Right" are the attractions scheduled for showing this week at the Rialto theatre.

DIRECTOR ENGAGED
Sam Wood, not yet finished cutting "The Mine With the Iron Foot" has been reengaged by Principal Pictures to direct their next Harold Bell Wright story. This is to be "The Recreation of Brian Kent," a story laid in the Ozark mountains and written by Wright when he was convalescing in the Missouri country. Zazu Pitts is the only screen personality so far engaged for an important role.

DOROTHY MACKAILL & GEORGE O'BRIEN in "THE MAN WHO CAME BACK" A WILLIAM FOX SPECIAL

Appearing until Tuesday at the Lyric theatre.

The Quilna's attraction for the first half of the week.

LYRIC PROGRAM

George O'Brien Stars in Notable Stage Play

William Fox has produced another picture from a notably successful novel and stage play in "The Man Who Came Back," which appears for the first half of the week at the Lyric theatre. The picture was made by a talented cast of screen performers headed by George O'Brien and Dorothy Mackaill.

George O'Brien in the title role does a piece of fine character work and the same may be said of Dorothy Mackaill in the role of Mabelle, the dance hall girl. Others in the cast are David Kirby, as the owner of a doubtful roadside inn near San Francisco; Edward Piel, in the guise of a Shanghai opium den owner; Emily Fitzroy, Cyril Chadwick, Ralph Lewis and Harvey Clark.

Scenes of New York are contrasted against others of San Francisco and these with shots of Shanghai and Honolulu, for the story takes the characters all around the world. The story opens in New York where the young ne'er-do-well son of a wealthy ship owner, is going to the devil in the white lights of Broadway. He is sent to San Francisco to work in his father's shipyard, but lands in the lowest dives of the old Barbary Coast. There he meets a girl.

How the boy drops to the depths, even to becoming a castaway in far off Shanghai, goes to make a dramatic picture, which has retained all the emotional strength of the original story.

On the trip west to San Francisco and thence across the Pacific, the boy is on the downward path. On the way to Honolulu and back to New York, he is on the upward path, with the figure of the girl always in the foreground, sacrificing that he may be saved from his own weakness.

"The Man Who Came Back" will be followed on Thursday by another Fox production, "The Cyclone Rider," with Alma Bennett in the leading role. The story was written by Lincoln J. Carter, often called the "King of Melodrama," and therefore contains all the elements of which melodrama are made—speed, action, crime and heroism.

Reed Howes, a newcomer to the screen, Evelyn Brent and Charles Conklin will be seen opposite the star.

"CUDDLE UP"

Popular Musical Comedy At the Faurot

When a theatrical producer wants to be sure that his offering will go over successfully he always lines up several good dancing acts and features them. Such is the case with "Cuddle Up," the musical comedy to be seen at the Faurot Opera house matinee and night today. It not only has tuneful music, pleasing principals, an attractive and expert chorus but it has several clever dance numbers that will please any audience.

A simple little love story with the usual twist worked up in a slightly different manner is presented amid pleasing scenic arrangements and is costumed brightly. The offering pleased audiences Saturday and should repeat today. All who saw it agreed that it fills the bill as regards genuine entertainment.

The cast and chorus are capable and demonstrative, their willingness to do the very best they could to make the evening's show a success. The music, written especially for this production, is tuneful and all numbers are presented in the very best possible manner.

As regards costumes and scenic effects the production is on a par with other popular musical comedies at the Faurot this season. It is a delightful little show that should please everyone.

GLENN HUNTER

"The Silent Watcher" Plays at Sigma

Two favorite stars will be seen on the Sigma screen during the current week. Glenn Hunter, popular juvenile star who has delighted thousands of theatre goers during his brief stage and screen career, is appearing until Tuesday in "The Silent Watcher." On that day comes Constance Talmadge in her latest comedy success, "Her Night of Romance," to remain for four days.

"The Silent Watcher" is not a photoplay of unusual length, extraordinary settings or elaborate wardrobe. In fact it is its simplicity of theme and pictorializing which makes it so doubly entertaining. There is no padding.

"The Silent Watcher" follows Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "The Altar on the Hill" faithfully. Glenn Hunter as Joe Roberts, has the faculty of winning one's sympathy with a single glance and of registering his thoughts without any apparent attempt of acting. Bessie Love has the leading feminine role and gives a superb demonstration. Hobart Bosworth, who plays the Chief, lends dignity and understanding to his character.

The story deals with the efforts of a young secretary, Joe Roberts, to a sensational candidate to show his appreciation of a promotion given him, by his loyalty and many intensely interesting and exciting developments arrive simultaneously with the news that Lilly Elliott, a show girl, with whom the candidate had been in close association, had been murdered. How the boy shields his employer by assuming the blame forms a plot which brings about an unusual climax.

The Sigma Fox News and a new Educational comedy, "Good Morning," featuring Lloyd Hamilton, are added attractions on this program.

"Her Night of Romance" is said to be one of Constance's best comedies to date, and that is saying a whole lot. The story was written by Hans Fraly, noted European author, and hinges on a love mix-up involving an American heiress, an English lord and a London money lender.

Ronald Colman, remembered for his good work in "The White Slave," in Constance's leading part. Others in the cast are Jean Harsholt, Albert Gran, Sidney Bracy and Joseph Dowling.

HOME LIFE IS AID TO ACTOR

Wife and Family Does Not Hurt Pulling Power of Movie Stars

Not so long ago the chief taboo in publicizing the actor was that his wife and children must never be mentioned or even hinted at. Indeed, the married hero was at quite a disadvantage. Producers and exhibitors believed that any reference to his domestic life spoiled the player's romantic appeal. The assumption was that herds of women developed footlights or screen romances for the popular idol and that this tenuous infatuation, with its reflection in the box office, must not be snatched by intrusion of a wife and kiddies.

Suppression and all sorts of subterfuges were resorted to, including plain fabrication, to keep the public deluded.

This delusion and the publicity methods by which it was fostered are now practically destroyed. And among those who had the temerity to flatten them, Pat O'Malley stands out prominently.

When Pat, for a long time featured in the play, married Lillian Wilkes, prominent stock actress, he was too proud of his conquest to keep it quiet—to the consternation of the trade.

When Eileen O'Malley, the first-born, arrived some seven years ago, Pat called up the newspapers and told them the good news—while exhibitors nearly fainted.

Then, four years later, came Sheila, with a like amount of publicity. And not long since, Mary Kathleen, whose advent was also widely heralded.

Instead of harming his film standing, as exhibitors once took for granted, O'Malley's family has enhanced it. Public admiration in no wise diminished, because audiences knew they were supplementing the fine affection of the actor's family. And presently there was a land slide among married folk to reveal the matrimonial and the paternal or maternal fact.

"For a long time," said Pat at the hospitable O'Malley residence, "I was the only man in pictures who, so far as the public was deliberately informed, was human enough to have a wife and kiddies."

"At first the diffusion had its drawbacks, not with the theater public but with exhibitors who held that a leading man's chief business was to make women in the audience fall in love with him."

"Once when I was slated to make a personal appearance, the manager wouldn't allow me to bring my wife with me on the stage. I went immediately to all the newspapers and had them print photos of my wife, the babies, and our bungalow in California. The result was that this theater, which had barred me because it considered it bad exploitation to reveal my domestic status, broke all records for the week."

INDIANS ARE GIVEN HONOR

"White Manito" May Face Nationwide Discussion

HOLLYWOOD — (Special) — Descendants of American pioneers may have a bone to pick with Isadore Bernstein, accountant, for the uncompromising light in which he shows the white race in its dealing with Indians in the forthcoming picture, "White Manito." Many photoplays have touched on the reciprocal atrocities between white man and red, but "White Manito" has this for theme: The trader and trapper, forefathers of the settlers, are roundly condemned for degrading practices which flared up in inevitable later tragedies.

Whatever reaction the film may get from the far, but some times fiery, kin of these pioneers will depend a good deal upon the caliber of the production. In order to do that it would of course have to be diffident beyond the usual melodrama.

The picture is being completed at Universal studios, with Jack Hoxie in the chief role, under direction of Clifford S. Smith. Many of the exteriors were taken at Indian settlements, and hundreds of Indians appear in the big scenes. The final outside episodes are being staged in Sonoma, California.

The story carries far back into the white invasion, when traders, British, Dutch and French, competed in what the serious author terms senseless exploitation of the aborigine, chiefly thru the medium of whisky. The gradual wreckage of a great people is then presented as a prelude to the reforms worked among a debased and savage folk by the "White Manito," child of a trader adopted in infancy by Indians and reared as a red man.

Much of the play is depicted against the imposing mountain and desert country of California, which lends a certain grandeur to such small parts of the film as have been shown at the studio.

Both the pioneer and the native Americans who, in their various ways, battled and schemed for possession of this continent are such remote ghosts of a vanished time that it doesn't require a great deal of courage to attempt to show them in historic accuracy. And yet they are not so remote from a time when writers and tale tellers referred to "a good Indian" as a dead Indian, that a red man may be presented as a popular hero.

Note that in "White Manito," the savior of his tribe, is the adopted son of a trader and not a white man—they play minor parts in the drama presented for the favor of the sons and daughters of their conquerors.

ACTOR SIGNED
Alan Dawn has signed James Hoxie for one of the featured roles in his latest Paramount picture, "Argentine Love." Bobo Daniels and Ricardo Cortez head the cast, which includes Marie Majeroni, Mark Gonzales, Julia Huxley and Russ Wylal. "Argentine Love" will be Rennie's third Paramount picture. In "His Children's Children," he played opposite Bette Daniels; he also supported Dorothy Dalton in "A Moral Sinner."

NERO IS HARD TO PLEASE

Refuses to Mind Sam, Then Half Kills Trainer Brought From India to Educate Him

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON — (Special) —

Ed Ballard, circus man, gave a baby elephant to Carl Fisher of Miami Beach, Fla.

The job of looking after the pet was delegated to Sam, an Ethiopian retainer.

While Nero, the pachyderm, remained in the infant class Sam had no trouble managing him. But presently Nero began to grow up.

And he got more mischievous as he grew. One day, for instance, he strolled into a garage. And the garage accompanied him as he rambled on.

Fisher decided Nero should have a regular elephant trainer. He wired a friend, visiting in India, to bring one along.

At Liverpool, steamship authorities wouldn't let the trainer board the boat. The Asiatic exclusion law prohibited his entry into the United States, they said.

Fisher appealed to Secretary of Labor James J. Davis. The secretary permitted the trainer to come in.

Sam was fired. The Bengalee trainer went to work. An elephant hook in his hand, he advanced on Nero.

Nero's ears began to flap. His eyes sparkled redly.

The Bengalee tried to talk to him. But Nero couldn't understand.

Result was the trainer woke up in a hospital.

When he came back to work, he was more cautious. But Nero knew him at a glance. Same old story all over—only worse.

The Bengalee was down and Nero was caressing him with a front foot when Sam hauled him off.

Secretary Davis received another appeal from Fisher.

"Please report my elephant trainer," it said.

Now Sam is back on the job.

MILLER IS HELD AFTER RAID

3 Quarts of Alleged Liquor
Confiscated in Room

Joe Miller, 56, butcher, living at the Hotel Allen, was arrested at 8 30 p. m. Saturday on a charge of possessing illicit liquor, following a raid on his room which, police say, netted nearly three quarts of purported pre-war whisky.

He was jailed until such a time as he will be able to furnish bond to insure his appearance in criminal court Monday.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY

A call for a special session of the Allen-co grand jury will be sounded soon by Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott in order to clear up pending criminal matter before the first of the year, when he retires from office.

BOND REDUCED

COLUMBUS GROVE — The bond of Richard A. Deakin, 150 W. Kibby-st., Lima, executor of the estate of Arthur Deakin, late of Columbus Grove, has been reduced in probate court from $10,000 to $5,000.

BARLAGE ELECTED HEAD OF INSURANCE CONCERN

OTTAWA — Benjamin Barlage was elected president of the Putnam-co Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. at the annual election Saturday afternoon. Joseph Bricker was elected secretary; Frank Pembert treasurer; John Lammers, director. An amendment to increase the number of directors to five, from three, lost out at the election. The amount of insurance carried by the company on Putnam-co farms alone is estimated at $1,600,000, and 369 members are included in the organization.

PILGRIMS FLOCK TO ROME

1000 Every Six Days Leave
Germany by Rail

ROME — (By Associated Press) — The organizing committee for the Holy Year has already received announcements of 65 pilgrimages to Rome during 1925.

One pilgrimage from Argentina is due to arrive Christmas Eve, the day before the Holy Year opens. A thousand English pilgrims are coming in the following May. The Maltese pilgrimages will arrive in August. The International Association of Catholic Youth is sending representatives in September and other pilgrims are coming to Rome from Mexico, Quebec, Montreal, Minnesota, Michigan and the Philippines at dates yet to be fixed.

The largest number of pilgrims yet announced is from Germany, from which country a train of 1,000 pilgrims is being organized every ten days. Six hundred Chinese are expected in January. Chinese pilgrims are arriving in February, and a body of French war widows in April. Other pilgrimages are being arranged from Palestine, Syria and Egypt.

SCHOOL EXPERT EXPECTED

Teachers to Be Scored by State Inspector

OTTAWA — L. L. Louthin, of Columbus, state inspector, representing the Ohio Department of Education, is expected to be in Putnam-co within the next two weeks, according to announcement made Saturday by Prof. George J. Keimath, county superintendent of schools. Louthin is expected to score the teachers, a new feature to be adopted in the county schools, and his visit is of great interest.

Teachers first will make out their own score cards, then each superintendent will score his teachers and finally, the state inspector will pass upon the qualifications.

While in the county, Louthin also will make recommendations as to work and endeavor to correct errors and defective methods.

MINT POLISH COINS

WARSAW — The United States supplied 12,000,000 silver coins of one zloty and 6,000,000 silver coins of two zlots. France and Great Britain are also minting coins for Poland from silver furnished by the Polish treasury. In 1925, however, silver Polish coins will be exclusively minted in the United States out of the 120 tons of silver purchased in the United States by the Polish government.

DAUGHTER BORN
GLANDORF — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Borgelt announce the birth of a daughter.

ARMISTICE DAY 1918—1924

SIX years ago Tuesday the din of battle was hushed! Men taxed almost beyond human endurance, laid aside the armament of devastation—glad to return to their families and former occupations.

This year, on the occasion of this momentous anniversary, this nation pays homage to the 70,000 men who fell upon the field of honor. Those men did not die or suffer in vain, for since that memorable November day of 1918 great strides have been made toward universal peace.
